'Back In' For Chester Dad

Father And Son Join Army

Like father, like son, like the Army.

So Paul G. Reed, 38, of Johnsonville near Chester, right, and Richard Reed, 17, have — with the help of Sgt. Edward Vallor, area recruiter — signed up to put on uniforms.

Sgt. Vallor says they are the first father and son to enlist together since he has been in this area.

The elder Reed, a roll finisher at the Mackintosh-Hemphill plant at Midland, served in the Army Air Corps during World War II, including two years duty in Brazil. He was discharged as a staff sregeant.

During his 16 years as a civilian, he often thought of returning to the service, which he says he liked.

Richard has been working as a mechanic in a service station in Chester, and the past summer decided to join the Army and make it his career.

When he told his father, the elder Reed made his decision, which meant leaving his wife, Mrs. Shirley Reed, and another son, Kenneth, 15. It also meant giving up his $115-a-week job in Midland for the $108-a-month pay of a private, but he said the service is "where I belong."

Both will leave Nov. 28 for Ft. Knox, Ky., where Richard will go through basic, and his father will be refreshed on changes made since he doffed khaki.

Richard, who attended Chester High School, has selected auto maintainance as his Army job — he enlisted to further his education, he says.

His father has remained true to his fondness for the military. He formerly served in the Pennsylvania Air National Guard, and is a member of American Legion Post 163, Chester VFW Post 6450, the Hancock County 40 & 8 Society and the Military Order of Cooties.

Sgt. Vallor reported Richard breezed through the enlistment tests and exams, and his father — whose hair is touched with gray — also passed in top shape. "He scored above average in everything, and we're happy to have him."

The two Reeds are happy to be in.

Legislature's Rushing Two Money Bills

Each House Okays One; Adjournment Eyed This Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Legislature, in a sudden hurry-up mood, is half way to its goal. Each house has approved one of two big money bills and hopes for final adjournment late this week.

The House approved, 102-30, a bill to replace a billion-dollar veto by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of the entire appropriation for the second year of the current budgetary biennium.

The Senate approved unanimously—although Democrats said they voted for it with heavy hearts—a twice-defeated measure to spend $31.1 million in the next two years in capital improvements.

Each house has now reversed its field and is considering the bill passed by the opposite house.

It took heavy Democratic support to roll up the top-heavy vote for the general appropriations bill. Twenty-four Democrats joined the 78 Republicans present to end the state's financial impasse—so far as the House is concerned, at least.

The appropriations bill passed by the House and upon which the Senate started hearings immediately called for 1962-63 spending of $1,022,700,000 which DiSalle vetoed as inadequate. The total was about $600,000 below the amount DiSalle vetoed.

There was considerable juggling of minor figures, but the upshot, mainly, was a $550,000 increase in state aid for higher education.

The Democratic minority tried unsuccessfully to amend the big money bill on several occasions.

Even though the Senate approved the capital improvements bill and sent it to the House, there was no real hope that the appropriated money ever would be forthcoming.

The major increases in the capital improvements bill included:

$410,000 for plans for a mental hospital in Northeastern Ohio.

$300,000 for additional land for the Salt Fork Reservoir in Guernsey County.

$425,000 for widening and deepening the Tuscarawas River in the Akron area to provide a more stable flow of industrial water and to eliminate the possibility of flooding.

$200,000 for repairing locks and dams in the Muskingum River.

$55,000 for plans for a parking garage beneath the Statehouse grounds in Columbus.

Ramp Opened As New Outlet For W. 9th St.

First segment of the California Hollow-West End Freeway to be placed in use, a short, curving ramp was opened to traffic Thursday to give easier access between W. 9th St. and the foot of Lisbon St.

It means Sunnyside district residents will have access and egress without negotiating the sharp turn at the point where Lisbon and W. 9th Sts. intersect near the street department barn—the old West End fire station.

The 24-foot ramp allows two-way traffic between W. 9th and Lisbon Sts. It connects with W. 9th at a point near May St. The other end ties into Lisbon St. a short distance upgrade from the junction with W. 8th.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, who announced the opening of the ramp, said a stop sign probably will be erected soon to give Lisbon St. traffic the right-of-way over autos moving down the ramp. W. 9th traffic probably will have the right-of-way over traffic moving up the ramp, he added.

Before W. 9th was made a dead-end at former Chestnut St. about a week ago, Sunnyside residents could use either W. 9th or Chestnut to Travel to W. 8th St. or Dresden Ave. Residents of the section of W. 9th nearest Dresden still have access via Dresden. But those on the other end of the street would have had no outlet except the sharp turn at W. 9th and Lisbon if the ramp had not been opened.

Retaliation On Order By NATO Urged

Adenauer Proposes Authority Without White House Okay

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer says the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must be given authority to order retaliation with U.S. nuclear weapons assigned to its members —a power now held solely by President Kennedy.

Adenauer told a news conference Thursday the West must enter into any negotiations with the Soviet Union from the strongest of bargaining positions. That, he said, called for strengthening of NATO military forces to permit them to wage nuclear warfare without White House clearance.

"I base this on an expert opinion by Gen. (Adolph) Heusinger who said that one hour may decide our fate and that the President may not be reachable to make a decision," Adenauer said. Heusinger, former chief of staff of West German armed forces, became chairman of the permanent NATO military committee last April.

At present, NATO has nuclear weapons on the European continent, but they are under exclusive U.S. control. Changes would be required in the U.S. Atomic Energy Act before the custody of the nuclear warheads could be shared with other nations.

How Hard To Press For Removal?

Kennedy And Adenauer Differ On Wall Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appeared today to be in sharp disagreement over how hard the Western powers should press a demand on the Soviet Union for removal of the Berlin wall.

The issue of the Communist-built wall sealing off East Berlin from West Berlin now seems to become a major topic of discussion in the meeting between Adenauer and Kennedy.

The West German chancellor is due to arrive Sunday for talks with the President on policies the Western powers should follow in any negotiations with the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Meanwhile some further statement of the U.S. position on this and other Berlin policy questions may be forthcoming for this afternoon from Secretary of State Dean Rusk who scheduled a news conference.

Rusk also had opportunity at the news conference to spell out current U.S. policy on assistance to the hard pressed government of South Viet Nam. There have been reports during the past several days from Saigon that American military assistance is being substantially increased.

As far as the Berlin wall is concerned, the United States, it is said, agrees that the Western powers cannot do less than insist on the wall's destruction and the restoration of freer movement of people between East and West Berlin. But in official quarters here there is no real hope that the Soviets will accept such a proposition

Armed Robber Escapes After Loan Firm Holdup

Nancy Boyd Died Where Body Found

Victim May Have Been Beaten Earlier Then Shot To Death

The Columbiana County sheriff's office and East Liverpool police moved ahead today in the investigation of the shotgun death of an 18-year-old East Liverpool mother, armed with one of their first tangible clues — they confirmed Thursday afternoon she was killed at the spot where her body was found Wednesday and not murdered in another place and then dumped in the isolated area near Beaver Creek.

Fragments of skull and spent pellets from a shotgun shell were found yesterday afternoon at the spot where the body of Mrs. Nancy Lee Chandler Boyd, 18, of Dresden Ave. Ext. was discovered 24 hours earlier.

The discoveries confirm that Mrs. Boyd died at the spot where her body was found, although she may have been beaten earlier with a blunt instrument, Chief Americo J. Radeschi said.

The search was directed by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and Chief Radeschi, whose departments have joined forces in an attempt to unravel the mystery. Joining in the hunt were Capt. Robert H. Pyle, Patrolman Jack Strobel, Deputy Howard Gray and Constable John Jackson of St. Clair Township.

The pieces of bone and the lead pellets were found in the spot immediately underneath where Mrs. Boyd's head was lying at the time the body was discovered. Others were within a few feet of the spot.

The discovery indicates the woman was killed with a shotgun blast fired at extremely close range while she was lying on the ground, the investigators said.

The fact that her skull also bore several large gashes indicates that she may have been struck on the head with a blunt instrument such as a tire iron at a nearby point and then dragged unconscious to the spot where the fatal shot was fired, they added. Her scalp bore two gashes which were three to four inches long.

A piece of material that may have been human tissue was found on a fallen tree limb alongside the road, about 10 yards from the spot where the body was discovered It was removed for laboratory analysis on the belief it could be a piece of tissue torn from the girl's body when she was struck on the head. The weapon could have been a tire iron or a hatchet or some similar instrument, the investigators said.

The officers carefully removed leaves from the ground at the scene yesterday, leading to the discovery of the fragments of skull and the shotgun pellets. The pel-

FRIGHTENED BY ROBBER. Mrs. Bonnie Carlisle, clerk in the Household Finance Co., still shows the fear she felt when a would-be patron turned out to be an armed robber after he applied for a "loan" shortly after noon at the firm's office on the second floor of the Rapport Building at Washington and E. 6th Sts. He threatened her, forcing her to hand over an undetermined amount of cash. He then fled to the street and made his getaway. No one in the office in today's holdup was harmed.

Household Finance Co. Cash Taken

Lone Man With Gun Enters Office Of Downtown Concern

A lone gunman escaped onto crowded noon hour streets in downtown East Liverpool today with several hundred dollars obtained in a stickup at the Household Finance Co. office in a second-floor location on Washington St. near E. 6th St.

The gunman escaped with money taken from cash drawers and the safe after menacing Mrs. Bonnie Carlisle of Calcutta, the clerk when he approached as a prospective borrower.

E. H. Seiferth, the manager, said the loss cannot be determined until there is a check on the cash drawer and the safe.

Mrs. Carlisle was alone in the main section of the office when the robber entered about 12:05.

Walter Johnson, another employe, was in an interview room in another part of the L-shaped office talking with Mr. and Mrs. William Dorsey of Fairview St., customers.

Mrs. Carlisle said the robber was 48 to 50 years old, wearing a dark trench coat, a dark gray hat and gloves.

When he first entered the man said he wanted to apply for a loan and said he never had done business before with Household Finance.

Mrs. Carlisle handed him an application form. Then he gave a name and address, which she wrote on the form. Police said the information obviously was fictitious. He gave the name "James C. Walker" and his address as "Ruth Court, East Liverpool."

About that time another customer entered and the stranger said he would go into an interview room at the rear of the cashier's enclosure and fill out the form.

When the customer left, the gunman emerged from the interview room and approached the counter, standing at a corner near the main door.

He pulled a big blue steel revolver out of his trench coat pocket — the first indication he had robbery in mind — and aimed it at the young clerk.

"Give me all your money," he told Mrs. Carlisle. He said he wanted only currency, no change.

Mrs. Carlisle removed the bills from the counter cash drawer and from a small safe built-in underneath the counter.

"What do you want me to do with it?" she asked the gunman.

"Put it in an envelope," he replied.

But when Mrs. Carlisle laid down the money to seek an envelope, the man grabbed the cash and went out the door with it in his hand.

Johnson was aware a holdup was in progress while he talked with Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey. He told them to be quiet so as not to attract attention.

Dorsey said he looked through a pane of glass in the door of the interview room and saw the robber's back as he stood at the counter.

Negotiation Seen As Need By President

Won't Bargain For Freedom, However, Kennedy Declares

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)— President Kennedy says the United States must be willing to negotiate cold war issues from a position of strength. To preach either war or surrender, he says, does a disservice to the nation.

As the Western Allies, including West Germany, renew efforts to unify their stand toward the Soviet Union, Kennedy Thursday made clear these views:

To encourage "appeasement or war, suicide or surrender," will divide the nation, create uncertainty among allies and inspire doubt in the Communist bloc of the West's readiness to defend its rights.

"The United States cannot impose its will on others," he said "There cannot be an American solution for every world problem."

The United States will never negotiate merely for the sake of negotiation, nor will it ever subject freedom to negotiation. But so long as vital interests and goals are clear, "we have nothing to fear from negotiations at the appropriate time and nothing to gain by refusing to play a part in them."

Talking out East-West disputes will succeed only if each side can find success in the result. In effect, neither side can expect total victory.

Although the French and others may see weakness in taking the initiative in bargaining with Moscow, "this nation cannot abdicate to its adversaries," the setting and conditions of negotiations.

71 Injured As Train Hits Road Grader

HARTFORD, Iowa (AP)—Seventy-one persons were injured late Thursday when the Rock Island Twin Star Rocket train, with about 120 passengers aboard, slammed into a road grader and sent nine of the trains 11 cars sprawling along the right-of-way.

Four persons were injured seriously. They included Lylle Wellons of Hartford, operator of the road grader.

The train, northbound from Houston, Tex., to Minneapolis, hit the road machine at a gravel road crossing six miles south of Hartford, which is 15 miles southeast of Des Moines.

Engineer Harry Patton, 67, of Kansas City, Mo., said the train was traveling at its usual speed.

Board Closes Petition Study For Franklin

School Authorities To Make Decision On Merger Vote

The Columbiana County Election Board will certify today to the County Board of Education that all 304 signatures are valid on a petition submitted by residents of the former Franklin Local School District seeking a vote on the question of transferring the district's territory to a Carroll County school district jurisdiction.

But the question of whether the proposal ever will be put to a vote must be decided by the County School Board.

At a special meeting Thursday night, the Election Board completed the job of checking the Franklin Local petition, on which its staff had been working for three days.

The petition was certified to the Election Board Monday by County School Supt. James L. McBride, complying with a Common Pleas Court order issued in an action brought by opponents of a recent merger of the Franklin district with the Southern Local district.

'Draft DiSalle' Move Reaches Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "draft DiSalle" move has reached the legislature.

House Democrats, during a caucus Thursday, adopted a resolution urging Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to reconsider his decision not to run again.

The resolution implored the Democratic governor to seek re-election and to "bear not only by our party's standard in 1962, but also that of all those who want honest, courageous and far-sighted leadership in the executive branch of state government."

High And Humble Gather For Sam Rayburn Rites

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — The high and the humble began gathering in this little north Texas town today to say farewell to Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House.

He died of cancer and its complications in the modest Risser Hospital here at 6:20 Thursday

"It was the damndest thing that ever got ahold of me," the 79-year-old Rayburn had said only several days ago. But Rayburn died peacefully — "as if one asleep," said his physician, Dr. Joe Risser.

President John F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, a longtime friend and protege of Rayburn, headed the list of government officials who will attend the funeral Saturday.

The service will be in Bonham's First Baptist Church.

Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., the man most likely to succeed Rayburn as speaker, arrived in Dallas Thursday night and was due here today.

He has designated 105 members of Congress who will fly to Bonham for the funeral of "Mr. Democrat." They include all members of the Texas delegation and the senior members, Republican and Democrat, from each state.

"Mr. Sam is gone," the banner headline in the Bonham Favorite read. "Goodbye, Mr. Sam," said the Herald in neighboring Denison, "Farewell to a great American."

And so it was all over the Fourth Congressional District of Texas, which Rayburn represented just short of a half century, and over the nation.

As far as the Berlin wall is concerned, the United States, it is said, agrees that the Western powers cannot do less than insist on the wall's destruction and the restoration of freer movement of people between East and West Berlin. But in official quarters here there is no real hope that the Soviets will accept such a proposition

Girl, Adrift 3 Days In Ship Wreck, Safe

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Terry Jo Duperrault, 11-year-old shipwreck victim who drifted on a raft for 3½ days, suffered today from the ravages of sea and sun. Her doctor said: "I think she will make it."

Hospital attendants posted a close guard over the blonde child. Her condition was listed "between serious and critical."

"She is under constant surveillance," an attendant said.

Terry Jo, of Green Bay, Wis., was brought to Mercy Hospital Thursday by Coast Guard helicopter.

Undergoes Operation

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) —Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore., underwent surgery Thursday for removal of what preliminary examinations indicated was a cancerous growth. She was in satisfactory condition.

Negotiation Seen As Need By President

Won't Bargain For Freedom, However, Kennedy Declares

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)— President Kennedy says the United States must be willing to negotiate cold war issues from a position of strength. To preach either war or surrender, he says, does a disservice to the nation.

As the Western Allies, including West Germany, renew efforts to unify their stand toward the Soviet Union, Kennedy Thursday made clear these views:

To encourage "appeasement or war, suicide or surrender," will divide the nation, create uncertainty among allies and inspire doubt in the Communist bloc of the West's readiness to defend its rights.

"The United States cannot impose its will on others," he said. "There cannot be an American solution for every world problem."

The United States will never negotiate merely for the sake of negotiation, nor will it ever subject freedom to negotiation. But so long as vital interests and goals are clear, "we have nothing to fear from negotiations at the appropriate time and nothing to gain by refusing to play a part in them."

Talking out East-West disputes will succeed only if each side can find success in the result. In effect, neither side can expect total victory.

Although the French and others may see weakness in taking the initiative in bargaining with Moscow, "this nation cannot abdicate to its adversaries," the setting and conditions of negotiations.

'Draft DiSalle' Move Reaches Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "draft DiSalle" move has reached the legislature.

House Democrats, during a caucus Thursday, adopted a resolution urging Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to reconsider his decision not to run again.

The resolution implored the Democratic governor to seek re-election and to "bear not only by our party's standard in 1962, but also that of all those who want honest, courageous and far-sighted leadership in the executive branch of state government."

71 Injured As Train Hits Road Grader

HARTFORD, Iowa (AP)—Seventy-one persons were injured late Thursday when the Rock Island Twin Star Rocket train, with about 120 passengers aboard, slammed into a road grader and sent nine of the trains 11 cars sprawling along the right-of-way.

Four persons were injured seriously. They included Lylle Wellons of Hartford, operator of the road grader.

The train, northbound from Houston, Tex., to Minneapolis, hit the road machine at a gravel road crossing six miles south of Hartford, which is 15 miles southeast of Des Moines.

Engineer Harry Patton, 67, of Kansas City, Mo., said the train was traveling at its usual speed.

Plane Seeks Rescue Of 11 On Ice Floe

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A plane was to leave here today in an attempt to rescue 11 men stranded on an ice floe because someone put the wrong fuel in their aircraft.

The Air Force said diesel oil instead of high octane gasoline was accidentally pumped into the tanks of a Navy patrol plane Thursday at the Arlis II research station near the North Pole.

Board Closes Petition Study For Franklin

School Authorities To Make Decision On Merger Vote

The Columbiana County Election Board will certify today to the County Board of Education that all 304 signatures are valid on a petition submitted by residents of the former Franklin Local School District seeking a vote on the question of transferring the district's territory to a Carroll County school district jurisdiction.

But the question of whether the proposal ever will be put to a vote must be decided by the County School Board.

At a special meeting Thursday night, the Election Board completed the job of checking the Franklin Local petition, on which its staff had been working for three days.

The petition was certified to the Election Board Monday by County School Supt. James L. McBride, complying with a Common Pleas Court order issued in an action brought by opponents of a recent merger of the Franklin district with the Southern Local district.

Kennedy, Johnson Head List

High And Humble Gather For Sam Rayburn Rites

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — The high and the humble began gathering in this little north Texas town today to say farewell to Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House.

He died of cancer and its complications in the modest Risser Hospital here at 6:20 Thursday

"It was the damndest thing that ever got ahold of me," the 79-year-old Rayburn had said only several days ago. But Rayburn died peacefully — "as if one asleep," said his physician, Dr. Joe Risser.

President John F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, a longtime friend and protege of Rayburn, headed the list of government officials who will attend the funeral Saturday.

The service will be in Bonham's First Baptist Church.

Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., the man most likely to succeed Rayburn as speaker, arrived in Dallas Thursday night and was due here today.

He has designated 105 members of Congress who will fly to Bonham for the funeral of "Mr. Democrat." They include all members of the Texas delegation and the senior members, Republican and Democrat, from each state.

"Mr. Sam is gone," the banner headline in the Bonham Favorite read. "Goodbye, Mr. Sam," said the Herald in neighboring Denison, "Farewell to a great American."

And so it was all over the Fourth Congressional District of Texas, which Rayburn represented just short of a half century, and over the nation.

Jewelry Store's Lock Defies Entry Attempt

A would-be burglar made an unsuccessful attempt to enter Reese's Jewelry, 106 E. 5th St., Thursday night or early today by removing the tumbler assembly from a lock on the front door, police said.

The attempted entry was made between 9 p. m. Thursday and 8:30 a. m. today, officers said. After failing to gain entrance, the would-be intruder carried away the tumbler system, officers said. Mr. and Mrs. John Reese and Robert Tittle were listed as the store owners.

IMPERIAL OF 1962

IMPERIAL LE BARON FOUR-DOOR SOUTHAMPTON

A forthright challenge to everyone who plans to buy a luxury car this year

In a few days, you will receive a personal invitation to drive a 1962 Imperial.

Not the usual vague "see your dealer" . . . but a specific challenge to compare your own car with the best Imperial we've ever built.

At your convenience, a dealer in your area will deliver a 1962 Imperial to you . . . for a thorough comparison-tour that you conduct by yourself.

We believe anyone planning to invest from five to seven thousand dollars in an automobile is entitled to the unembroidered facts right from the car itself.

Naturally, our dealers explain the advantages of torsion-bar suspension . . . tell you how the alternator supplies current even while the engine idles . . . quote engineering data on the superior performance of our new transmission . . . and answer any other question you ask about Imperial.

But you can find out only so much about Imperial by mere listening. To give the facts substance and meaning you must drive and compare.

So, when our invitation arrives, take us up on it. It obligates you not at all. And whether you eventually buy an Imperial or not, you'll never forget that once you drove a car which handled and accelerated and thrilled as a great car is supposed to.

R.S.V.P. Even though our invitation may somehow miss you, an Imperial comparison-tour may easily be arranged by writing on your letterhead to: General Manager, Imperial Division, 12200 East Jefferson, Detroit, Michigan.

IMPERIAL OF 1962

IMPERIAL LE BARON FOUR-DOOR SOUTHAMPTON

A forthright challenge to everyone who plans to buy a luxury car this year

In a few days, you will receive a personal invitation to drive a 1962 Imperial.

Not the usual vague "see your dealer" . . . but a specific challenge to compare your own car with the best Imperial we've ever built.

At your convenience, a dealer in your area will deliver a 1962 Imperial to you . . . for a thorough comparison-tour that you conduct by yourself.

We believe anyone planning to invest from five to seven thousand dollars in an automobile is entitled to the unembroidered facts right from the car itself.

Naturally, our dealers explain the advantages of torsion-bar suspension . . . tell you how the alternator supplies current even while the engine idles . . . quote engineering data on the superior performance of our new transmission . . . and answer any other question you ask about Imperial.

But you can find out only so much about Imperial by mere listening. To give the facts substance and meaning you must drive and compare.

So, when our invitation arrives, take us up on it. It obligates you not at all. And whether you eventually buy an Imperial or not, you'll never forget that once you drove a car which handled and accelerated and thrilled as a great car is supposed to.

R.S.V.P. Even though our invitation may somehow miss you, an Imperial comparison-tour may easily be arranged by writing on your letterhead to: General Manager, Imperial Division, 12200 East Jefferson, Detroit, Michigan.

Tribute To Personal Integrity

We don't know how much Speaker Sam Rayburn knew about the warm and wonderful things written about him in newspapers all over the country after he began to die of cancer. Some of it, we hope, got through to this lonely man who substituted congressional politics for the family life he never had.

He was good at his work. He was a man of unusual stature, though it goes without saying he had his limitations and was aware of them. He did not aspire to be even as much as he came to be—third in succession to the presidency as speaker of the House of Representatives.

WHAT ACCOUNTED, then, for the warm and wonderful things written about Sam Rayburn after he went home to Texas to die? What caused such an outpouring of admiration for a man who never had sought a place in the spotlight?

The explanation is not hard to find.

There is a desperate hunt for virtues that seem to be in danger of sliding away from us. Many of these seem to have been embodied in Americans like Sam Rayburn, who belonged to the last generation. The thinking of these people was direct and uncluttered. They knew what they wanted to do and got it done with a minimum of fuss and feathers.

THEY WERE WISE but not cynical. They were realistic but not disenchanted. They were solid but not stolid. They had a great capacity for laughing at themselves and laughing with their friends, but no capacity for laughing at other people.

They were often embroiled in differences of opinion but no one ever doubted their purposes were blameless, their honesty above question and their faith without a flaw. They were the tall trees that other men used to find their bearings.

The trees aren't as tall as they used to be, and death keeps cutting down familiar landmarks. Mister Sam is gone.

First, Take Off All Door Knobs

One of the things Ohio's budget balancers are running into that could have been foreseen—and was—is the kind of mind that would react to an order to cut down household expenses by taking off all the door knobs.

When this annoyance is called to attention, the door-knob removers shrug eloquently and explain that this is the way things will have to be under a policy of cutting household expenses. Door knobs will have to be saved first.

If this doesn't loosen up the purse, they will have to shut off the water and take the mattresses off the beds. And if the purse is still closed against them, they will nail the doors shut.

This is known as dramatizing the issue—and it was foreseen when the DiSalle administration and a budget-balancing majority tangled in Columbus this year. It was foreseen most clearly by those who objected to leveling off the state's budget as approximately a billion dollars a year.

They were keenly aware of the possibilities of dramatizing the issue.

They had seen the same thing happen in the federal government, where every move in recent years to cut some of the fat out of military spending has been greeted with the glum response that the only way to do it is to take off the door knobs and thereafter to go from bad to worse until the United States would be left with nothing but bows and arrows to defend itself.

It takes patience and composure to deal with this kind of mentality. The public can easily be misled into thinking, for example, that budget-balancing in the case of Ohio mental institutions must lead directly and inevitably to a slam-bang return to an unenlightened mental health policy.

William L. Grover, superintendent of Cleveland State Hospital, responded so intemperately to the idea that his allowance might not be what he desired that he chopped off his institution's recreation program, apparently to teach the budget-balancers a lesson. This caused Rep. Ralph Fisher, Wooster Republican and chairman of the House Finance Committee, to suggest that Supt. Grover might have to be called before the committee to explain his immoderate reaction.

It's one of the oldest tricks in the book, and it frequently works. Whether it will work in the issue over budget-balancing in Ohio is not known, but it won't be for lack of trying if it fails.

Trotsky Comes Up In The Shuffle

Mrs. Leon Trotsky, widow of the revolutionist whose name was most familiar to Americans when Russia's czars were toppled, has a suggestion.

Her husband's place in Communist history, she reasons, has been confirmed by disposal of Stalin as a Communist saint. A vacuum has been created in the Red Hall, of Fame and into it she would like to insert the name of Leon Trotsky, born Leon Davidovitch Bronstein.

When the Kerensky revolution toppled the czars, Trotsky was editing a paper in New York. He went to Russia post-haste, managed to get himself arrested by the Kerensky regime for being a wild man, then settled down to become a major figure in the counter-revolution led by Lenin. He was commissar of foreign affairs and commissar of war, until he quarreled with Lenin over doctrine. Trotsky quarreled with everybody because he was a born absolutist.

When Stalin moved into power after Lenin's death, Trotsky was squeezed out of the inner circle. Thereafter he was pushed around, hounded and hunted until in 1940 he was pole-axed in Mexico City by an assassin who now is snug in Russia, having served a prison term in Mexico for his act.

Trotsky was the first notable victim of the Stalin policy of getting rid of all Communist rivals who someday might look him in the eye. In 1956 when Nikita Khrushchev opened the campaign to downgrade Stalin it was first proposed by Trotsky's friends that his memory should be burnished and honored but nothing came of the idea then. Nothing is likely to come of it now, either, for a reason that can be mentioned only in whispers.

Trotsky was a middle-class Russian Jew before he ever was a revolutionist. Once more there are reports and scraps of evidence that the Russian regime is returning to a dynamic policy of Jew-baiting.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Dear President Kennedy: Please rush me a copy of that book you have announced to be distributed to all families clearing up their shelter problems. I am deeper in confusion than I could be in any hole in the ground and the writings and statements of administration members, scientific experts, politicians, generals, admirals and other biggies have me dizzy.

I just heard a panel discussion in which speakers were miles apart, half of them urging shelters and others opposing them. Two declared building shelters constituted an aggressive "posture" and made war more likely.

So please be sure the new book makes clear whether I am a warmonger if I dig a hole around the premises and an aggressor if I build a refuge for my family from atomic death.

Should I consider my "posture" more than the lives of my wife and kids? I need a shelter to protect me from the fallout from opinions of experts.

Also, in the matter of shelter costs I wish the book would set me straight on why folks will shoot the works building an outdoor swimming pool to protect their neighborhood prestige, dig a bigger playroom in the cellar to protect upstairs furniture but hesitate to build shelter to save the family from horrible end.

It makes no sense to see people buying de luxe cars and enlarging the garage with little regard for money, but opposing shelters from atomic bombs as too expensive.

Could you help me out by listing defense officials, governors, mayors, scientists and panel advisers and classifying them, as horse handicappers do, with such words as "Erratic sort," "Can be dangerous," "Class of the field," "Looks dependable," "Not in shape," etc. It would help. Also, how's chances showing how many Cabinet officers, governors, burgomasters, wardens and civil defense officials have built shelters?

MAYOR WAGNER is for raising taxi fares, with 35 cents as initial meter charge, if operators agree to use part of money to pension drivers. But won't a cabbie feel extra miserable in retirement? How can a man, who has spent years in excitement, strain, warfare and arguments of taxi driving, be happy with nothing to face but peace and tranquility? (It could take years for him to get used to getting a pension, BUT NO TIP.)

California medical center hears a doctor say cocktail hour is beneficial, as it offsets tensions of modern civilization. "It is interlude between the large society of business day and small society of family," he declares. Yeah, but it also depends on the cocktail. There are some mixtures which make two people in "small" society of home behave as if they were biggest people in the "large" society.

Do you suppose Khrushchev said to Molotov, "The face is familiar, but I don't recall the name?"

Mr. Nehru speaks:
All atom bombs are evil.
They have the demon's touch;
But in my disapproval
I mustn't talk too much.

A woman wearing spike heels with lifts a quarter of an inch square imposes a stress of about a ton or more per square inch, depending on how much she weighs and how she steps on her heels. A 120-pound woman, stepping squarely on this type of heel, imposes a stress of about 2,000 pounds per square inch, but since only a small part of the lift strikes the floor first, there's a momentary stress of nearly four tons per square inch.

The Silent Gavel

Threat Of Steel Strike Grows

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

If I were president of the United States and I believed we'd need steel to back us up during the next summertime crisis abroad, I'd stockpile the stuff. I've just come through the great steel jungle of furnaces and black - smoke belching stacks and I believe they'll be smokeless and silent just about a year from now. If I ever saw an area heading for a strike, this is it.

Victor Riesel

Furthermore, it will come at the height and intensity of the animosities of the 1962 congressional campaign. That won't make matters easier for President Kennedy. He'll have to move. No matter which way he goes he'll make men angry and turn them into political enemies.

There is no doubt that the demands of the United Steelworkers of America, led by the pipe-smoking, silver-haired David McDonald, will be tough. He will ask for a 32-hour week. Or a shorter work-year. And profit sharing. And job security.

ALL THIS still has to be discussed with the union's policy committee. But there can be no misinterpreting the signs of things to come. And in this interpretation, I keep in mind what they taught me when I first learned the difference between a picket and a plant guard and how to cover a strike—that is, as steel goes so goes the nation's wage earners.

John Kennedy, of the vintage of the House Labor Committee circa 1947, knows this. His secretary of labor, Arthur Goldberg, certainly knows it. So, it is vital to all to know what the steelworkers and their regional leaders, with some of whom I've been speaking, are talking about as they drive to work and munch their lunch.

They take seriously Dave McDonald's speeches "in the districts" about a 32-hour week. They know they won't get it. But they believe they can cut down the 40 hours somehow.

They've been told their union membership has fallen from 1.1 million to 905,000 and will be below that by next spring when the new negotiations begin. They are being told by their officers that 350,000 instead of 550,000 men can now make 100 million tons of steel. They worry about layoffs.

SO THEY LISTEN hard when McDonald tells them he'll fight for a 32-hour week. They also listen to all news of profit sharing.

One of the conversation pieces in the "steel belt" is a profit sharing contract signed recently between the union and the Saramar Aluminum Co., over in Youngstown, Ohio.

Many take it as a sign of the new union policy, though their leaders say it's just a one shot.

The district director who worked it out is Jim Griffin. It's complex. But, as he explained it to me, about 32 per cent of the profit left after the company uses a part of it for research and development, goes into a special trust fund.

The money is held by a bank. The workers get their share only when they leave, or their estate gets it when they pass on. This means it's really a pension-type old age nest egg.

But what Griffin now wants, and will urge on the union's policy committee, will be a profit sharing system to cover laid-off workers as well. In other words, a move is developing which will give those laid off by a plant a share in its earnings.

IN ADDITION, the union leaders are planning to ask for what is in effect a guaranteed wage for anywhere from three-quarters of a year to a full year.

This, plus wage increases and other welfare benefits, would cost the industry hundreds of millions of dollars. The industry will not grant it.

Not so long ago, Joseph Block of Chicago, president of Inland Steel — and one of President Kennedy's labor - management advisory committeemen — said the steel industry is in danger. Rising labor costs, said Block, were primarily responsible.

The steel industry, he charged, is being pressured to hold down prices. The pressure, of course, is coming from the White House.

And when I was in the Southwest recently, R. Heath Larry, U.S. Steel administrative vice president in charge of labor relations, also laid it on the line in a speech over in Austin.

THIS U.S. STEEL executive said, "there must be an understanding of the law of life that as security expands, freedom declines. Moreover, that efforts to achieve employe security in contract provisions can only be as effective as the ability of the employer to maintain and expand the markets for his products. . ."

There's no meeting of the minds here. If Dave McDonald is serious, it can only mean a strike shortly after the contracts expire next June 30. That will make it a hot summer, especially around the White House.

Flurries Due

By Truman Twill

It says in the paper that snow flurries are on the way. That's not half of what's on the way.

This country is full of auto drivers who fly apart at the sight of snow. If some of it sticks to the pavement they grow hysterical.

If it piles up on highways and in driveways they bid for commitment to the main grounds of the who-dat house. And if their driving wheels fail to catch hold when they shoot the gas to Ole Paint, they run amuck.

I can sit here on a snowless day and predict what will happen, down to the whine of a pair of tire's being tortured at curbside.

There will be drivers who will get stuck at intersections for no better reason than failure to know how to operate their cars.

Hundreds will forget the rudimentary principles of putting on brakes and will skid into ditches.

Thousands will start through a hard winter without enough battery power to light a flashlight and will have to be pushed, pulled, comforted and cajoled.

It is as though some drivers never heard of a shovel, a tow rope, a bucket of sand, a workable jack, or radiator antifreeze.

Automobiles will be abandoned in flocks on streets built to accommodate moving traffic and will be permitted by malfeasant officials to nestle there in dirty snowdrifts till Spring.

Auto passengers will be asphyxiated by fumes from leaky exhaust pipes.

Radiators will freeze up and bust.

Motorists will swell up and swear.

Hands and feet will be frozen. Pistons will crack. Heart attacks will be incurred in efforts to do the impossible with stuck two-ton cars and 150-pound humans.

Not one of us in a thousand should be trusted with an automobile when there's snow on the ground. As Winter wears on we'll get better, but when it starts we won't be worth the phhtt of a balky engine with fouled plugs and worn-out set of distributor points.

Whenever I dared to think I was getting the hang of it last Winter I remembered what happened in the first big snowstorm.

I took a detour to get around a wreck that blocked the road and ended eventually at an intersection I was sure I never had seen before.

A filling station attendant told me I was at a place I could have reached only by making two 90-degree turns, one to the left, one to the right — and I was not aware of having made any turns at all.

I was an intersection — I had been driving through it for 12 years, yet I'd never seen it before.

This is the kind of thing that can happen to people in automobiles when snow falls. Everything goes sour. Windshield wipers won't work. Radiators leak. Tires grow temperamental. Judgment springs a leak and common sense stalls.

It says in the paper snow flurries are due.

Chances are they won't amount to much. But the hysteria and damfoolishness that will accompany the snow will be almost beyond belief. We'd all do well to stay wherever we are until the sun shines again.

Neutrals Are Kept Constantly In Mind

What do all these visits by foreign dignitaries — Prime Minister Nehru, among others — really mean? Of what value is the artificial friendship with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and what do the lengthy conferences here with several heads of state in recent weeks amount to? What's back of it all?

David Lawrence

These questions are in the minds of many people in this country as they wonder whether the visits of high officials from abroad and the platitudinous professions of lofty purpose do any good, and whether the United States is being "played for a sucker" by the so-called neutrals or non-aligned countries.

The truth is that it is a game with high stakes. While mistakes have been made, the United States, under the leadership of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, has actually proceeded with self-restraint, caution and common sense in handling most of the many delicate situations involved.

Take, for instance, the problem of India. President Kennedy knows as well as anybody else in the West that India's delegation to the United Nations has been aiding the maneuvers of the Soviet Union and that Krishna Menon, the minister of defense in Mr. Nehru's Cabinet, plays close to the Moscow regime — if, indeed, he isn't a Communist himself, as has been widely reported.

American public opinion lately, moreover, has gotten a bit fed up with Marshal Tito, who also has been going along with the Soviet Union in the U.N., though accepting all the American money and military planes he can get.

Several members of Congress have become aroused over this. The furor helps to impress the Yugoslav dictator — as it does Mr. Nehru — with the fact that, while the Washington administration can speak in the friendliest terms and promise help, the money has to come from the American people and be voted by the Congress.

So what has happened lately is that some recipients of foreign aid who have been cuddling up to the Communists have been getting the criticism they deserve, and have become so worried about it that they have begun to see that something must be done to allay suspicion in this country.

It's the United States, therefore, that's now getting some of the "buttering up," though these same recipients of aid from America do not fail to send their emissaries to Moscow soon thereafter, presumably to reassure the Communists that the nonaligned haven't become stooges of the West just because they accept needed funds.

THE NEUTRALISTS, as they sometimes have been called, know full well that it is the United States which dishes out the big money and that the Soviets are long on promises but short on fulfillment, while the conditions exacted by Khrushchev are far more onerous than the requests for cooperation made by this country.

There was a time when the recipients cried out indignantly against any "strings" being attached to financial aid but they had to drop that line of talk when they came to realize that Moscow itself insisted on some very substantial conditions.

These include, for instance, permission for a big increase in the embassy staffs from the Communist countries amounting to several hundred in each case, and the sending in of hundreds of student organizers, trained to stir up trouble in universities and to do other things that help the Community apparatus in cold war operations inside neutral countries.

In Latin America the Soviet advance in this field has been extensive, but the countries to the south of us are slowly waking up to the dangers.

Nine of them have already broken diplomatic relations with Cuba, the center of Communist activities in this hemisphere. Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Mexico have not gone as far as their sister countries in manifesting antagonism toward Castro.

This, however, may well be because in their own lands the Communist apparatus, which often works in with opposition political parties, is already somewhat dangerous to the administrations in power.

IT'S A CASE of national interest in each instance.

Mr. Nehru, who was educated in Britain and knows the Anglo-Saxon mind as well as any statesman in Europe or Asia, is afraid of the club that Khrushchev holds over him through Peiping.

Any moment the Red Chinese can start border trouble and threaten India. So the Indian prime minister proceeds cautiously and tries to appear neutral.

He, like Marshal Tito, goes along with the Communists in the U.N. on the theory that this is the least expensive way to satisfy the Kremlin and yet not run too big a risk of alienating the United States. Unhappily for Mr. Nehru, the American people can read about all his doings. It's the growth of a critical opinion inside the United States that caused Mr. Nehru to come here to fix things up. It accounts for his many appearances on television, his speeches and interviews that got wide publicity in America.

It's tough going, to be sure, for the neutrals when they try to play both ends against the middle, and it's tough for the President and secretary of state of the United States, who certainly cannot afford to break off with these neutrals just because for the time being they pursue mistaken policies. It is a game that calls for skill and patience.

It is coincidentally helpful that steady pressure is applied through openly expressed criticisms by the peoples of free countries like America.

THE OBJECTIVE, which is to keep the neutrals from being forced to become Communist satellites — if they should have nowhere else to turn — is being kept constantly in mind in London and Washington.

While outwardly it sometimes looks as if progress isn't being made, the truth is that the cold war is a long-range operation and the scoreboard of victories and defeats at a given time isn't necessarily a measure of the eventual outcome.

LONDON

A remarkable social experiment is taking place in a small disused Army camp which lies in a valley just below the North Downs about 20 miles south of London.

If you came to London you might find the city strange and know that a tall man in a blue uniform was a policeman; you would know the meaning of a cluster of green, amber and red lights at street intersections; you would know what a bus looked like, and that you had to pay to travel on one.

But to 264 persons living in this army camp, all these things are unknown; absolutely everything is strange and new.

They are the refugees from the tiny South Atlantic island of Tristan da Cumba, who were evacuated a month ago when the small plateau on which they lived started to crack and rumble and eventually erupted into a small volcano.

Unable to continue to live on what is sometimes known as "the loneliest island in the world" they were brought to England by the Colonial Office for eventual resettlement.

But what their fate is to be nobody knows. Many parts of Britain, notably some of the lonelier Scottish islands such as the Shetland, hope that the islanders will want to reestablish their tight little community, and in doing so inject new life into the remoter parts of the United Kingdom.

But the islanders themselves are just bemused and bewildered, having been dragged in the space of one month from their primitive 19th century life to the Britain of 1961.

The older islanders want fervently to keep together; the younger ones want to explore this new-found world. However well the Colonial Office handles this delicate situation there is bound to be tragedy for some, the hitherto impossible tragedy of broken families.

The 264 islanders, whose ages range from 85-year-old Jane Lavarello to 1-year-old Comad Glass, have only seven surnames between them. They are descended from a Corporal Glass, his wife and two ex-seamen who stayed behind on the island when a detachment of British artillery was withdrawn in 1817.

Later they were joined by three shipwrecked mariners who, worried at the shortage of women, contracted with the skipper of a merchant ship to bring them five wives from St. Helena.

Tribute To Personal Integrity

We don't know how much Speaker Sam Rayburn knew about the warm and wonderful things written about him in newspapers all over the country after he began to die of cancer. Some of it, we hope, got through to this lonely man who substituted congressional politics for the family life he never had.

He was good at his work. He was a man of unusual stature, though it goes without saying he had his limitations and was aware of them. He did not aspire to be even as much as he came to be—third in succession to the presidency as speaker of the House of Representatives.

WHAT ACCOUNTED, then, for the warm and wonderful things written about Sam Rayburn after he went home to Texas to die? What caused such an outpouring of admiration for a man who never had sought a place in the spotlight?

The explanation is not hard to find.

There is a desperate hunt for virtues that seem to be in danger of sliding away from us. Many of these seem to have been embodied in Americans like Sam Rayburn, who belonged to the last generation. The thinking of these people was direct and uncluttered. They knew what they wanted to do and got it done with a minimum of fuss and feathers.

THEY WERE WISE but not cynical. They were realistic but not disenchanted. They were solid but not stolid. They had a great capacity for laughing at themselves and laughing with their friends, but no capacity for laughing at other people.

They were often embroiled in differences of opinion but no one ever doubted their purposes were blameless, their honesty above question and their faith without a flaw. They were the tall trees that other men used to find their bearings.

The trees aren't as tall as they used to be, and death keeps cutting down familiar landmarks. Mister Sam is gone.

First, Take Off All Door Knobs

One of the things Ohio's budget balancers are running into that could have been foreseen—and was—is the kind of mind that would react to an order to cut down household expenses by taking off all the door knobs.

When this annoyance is called to attention, the door-knob removers shrug eloquently and explain that this is the way things will have to be under a policy of cutting household expenses. Door knobs will have to be saved first.

If this doesn't loosen up the purse, they will have to shut off the water and take the mattresses off the beds. And if the purse is still closed against them, they will nail the doors shut.

This is known as dramatizing the issue—and it was foreseen when the DiSalle administration and a budget-balancing majority tangled in Columbus this year. It was foreseen most clearly by those who objected to leveling off the state's budget as approximately a billion dollars a year.

They were keenly aware of the possibilities of dramatizing the issue.

They had seen the same thing happen in the federal government, where every move in recent years to cut some of the fat out of military spending has been greeted with the glum response that the only way to do it is to take off the door knobs and thereafter to go from bad to worse until the United States would be left with nothing but bows and arrows to defend itself.

It takes patience and composure to deal with this kind of mentality. The public can easily be misled into thinking, for example, that budget-balancing in the case of Ohio mental institutions must lead directly and inevitably to a slam-bang return to an unenlightened mental health policy.

William L. Grover, superintendent of Cleveland State Hospital, responded so intemperately to the idea that his allowance might not be what he desired that he chopped off his institution's recreation program, apparently to teach the budget-balancers a lesson. This caused Rep. Ralph Fisher, Wooster Republican and chairman of the House Finance Committee, to suggest that Supt. Grover might have to be called before the committee to explain his immoderate reaction.

It's one of the oldest tricks in the book, and it frequently works. Whether it will work in the issue over budget-balancing in Ohio is not known, but it won't be for lack of trying if it fails.

Trotsky Comes Up In The Shuffle

Mrs. Leon Trotsky, widow of the revolutionist whose name was most familiar to Americans when Russia's czars were toppled, has a suggestion.

Her husband's place in Communist history, she reasons, has been confirmed by disposal of Stalin as a Communist saint. A vacuum has been created in the Red Hall, of Fame and into it she would like to insert the name of Leon Trotsky, born Leon Davidovitch Bronstein.

When the Kerensky revolution toppled the czars, Trotsky was editing a paper in New York. He went to Russia post-haste, managed to get himself arrested by the Kerensky regime for being a wild man, then settled down to become a major figure in the counter-revolution led by Lenin. He was commissar of foreign affairs and commissar of war, until he quarreled with Lenin over doctrine. Trotsky quarreled with everybody because he was a born absolutist.

When Stalin moved into power after Lenin's death, Trotsky was squeezed out of the inner circle. Thereafter he was pushed around, hounded and hunted until in 1940 he was pole-axed in Mexico City by an assassin who now is snug in Russia, having served a prison term in Mexico for his act.

Trotsky was the first notable victim of the Stalin policy of getting rid of all Communist rivals who someday might look him in the eye. In 1956 when Nikita Khrushchev opened the campaign to downgrade Stalin it was first proposed by Trotsky's friends that his memory should be burnished and honored but nothing came of the idea then. Nothing is likely to come of it now, either, for a reason that can be mentioned only in whispers.

Trotsky was a middle-class Russian Jew before he ever was a revolutionist. Once more there are reports and scraps of evidence that the Russian regime is returning to a dynamic policy of Jew-baiting.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Dear President Kennedy: Please rush me a copy of that book you have announced to be distributed to all families clearing up their shelter problems. I am deeper in confusion than I could be in any hole in the ground and the writings and statements of administration members, scientific experts, politicians, generals, admirals and other biggies have me dizzy.

I just heard a panel discussion in which speakers were miles apart, half of them urging shelters and others opposing them. Two declared building shelters constituted an aggressive "posture" and made war more likely.

So please be sure the new book makes clear whether I am a warmonger if I dig a hole around the premises and an aggressor if I build a refuge for my family from atomic death.

Should I consider my "posture" more than the lives of my wife and kids? I need a shelter to protect me from the fallout from opinions of experts.

Also, in the matter of shelter costs I wish the book would set me straight on why folks will shoot the works building an outdoor swimming pool to protect their neighborhood prestige, dig a bigger playroom in the cellar to protect upstairs furniture but hesitate to build shelter to save the family from horrible end.

It makes no sense to see people buying de luxe cars and enlarging the garage with little regard for money, but opposing shelters from atomic bombs as too expensive.

Could you help me out by listing defense officials, governors, mayors, scientists and panel advisers and classifying them, as horse handicappers do, with such words as "Erratic sort," "Can be dangerous," "Class of the field," "Looks dependable," "Not in shape," etc. It would help. Also, how's chances showing how many Cabinet officers, governors, burgomasters, wardens and civil defense officials have built shelters?

MAYOR WAGNER is for raising taxi fares, with 35 cents as initial meter charge, if operators agree to use part of money to pension drivers. But won't a cabbie feel extra miserable in retirement? How can a man, who has spent years in excitement, strain, warfare and arguments of taxi driving, be happy with nothing to face but peace and tranquility? (It could take years for him to get used to getting a pension, BUT NO TIP.)

California medical center hears a doctor say cocktail hour is beneficial, as it offsets tensions of modern civilization. "It is interlude between the large society of business day and small society of family," he declares. Yeah, but it also depends on the cocktail. There are some mixtures which make two people in "small" society of home behave as if they were biggest people in the "large" society.

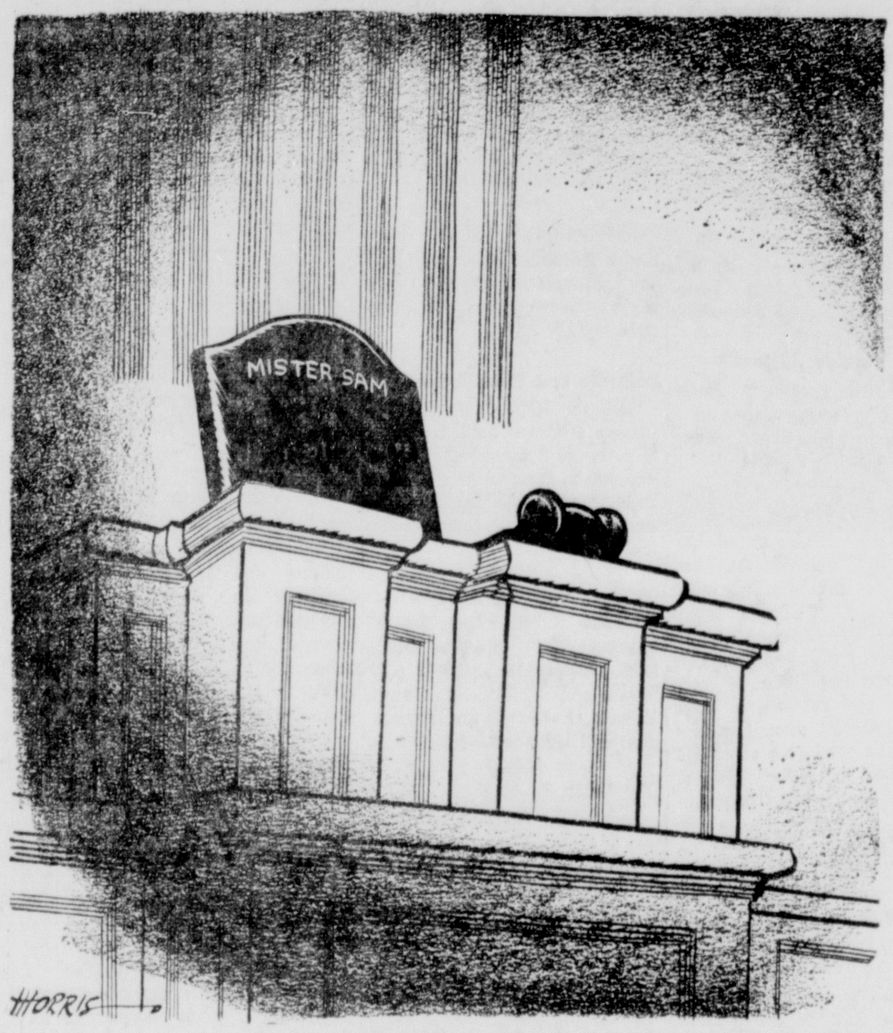

Do you suppose Khrushchev said to Molotov, "The face is familiar, but I don't recall the name?"

Mr. Nehru speaks:
All atom bombs are evil.
They have the demon's touch;
But in my disapproval
I mustn't talk too much.

A woman wearing spike heels with lifts a quarter of an inch square imposes a stress of about a ton or more per square inch, depending on how much she weighs and how she steps on her heels. A 120-pound woman, stepping squarely on this type of heel, imposes a stress of about 2,000 pounds per square inch, but since only a small part of the lift strikes the floor first, there's a momentary stress of nearly four tons per square inch.

Appendicitis is much more common among civilized people than among primitive people.

The Silent Gavel

Threat Of Steel Strike Grows

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

If I were president of the United States and I believed we'd need steel to back us up during the next summertime crisis abroad, I'd stockpile the stuff. I've just come through the great steel jungle of furnaces and black-smoke belching stacks and I believe they'll be smokeless and silent just about a year from now. If I ever saw an area heading for a strike, this is it.

Victor Riesel

Furthermore, it will come at the height and intensity of the animosities of the 1962 congressional campaign. That won't make matters easier for President Kennedy. He'll have to move. No matter which way he goes he'll make men angry and turn them into political enemies.

There is no doubt that the demands of the United Steelworkers of America, led by the pipe-smoking, silver-haired David McDonald, will be tough. He will ask for a 32-hour week. Or a shorter work-year. And profit sharing. And job security.

ALL THIS still has to be discussed with the union's policy committee. But there can be no misinterpreting the signs of things to come. And in this interpretation, I keep in mind what they taught me when I first learned the difference between a picket and a plant guard and how to cover a strike—that is, as steel goes so goes the nation's wage earners.

John Kennedy, of the vintage of the House Labor Committee circa 1947, knows this. His secretary of labor, Arthur Goldberg, certainly knows it. So, it is vital to all to know what the steelworkers and their regional leaders, with some of whom I've been speaking, are talking about as they drive to work and munch their lunch.

They take seriously Dave McDonald's speeches "in the districts" about a 32-hour week. They know they won't get it. But they believe they can cut down the 40 hours somehow.

They've been told their union membership has fallen from 1.1 million to 905,000 and will be below that by next spring when the new negotiations begin. They are being told by their officers that 350,000 instead of 550,000 men can now make 100 million tons of steel. They worry about layoffs.

SO THEY LISTEN hard when McDonald tells them he'll fight for a 32-hour week. They also listen to all news of profit sharing.

One of the conversation pieces in the "steel belt" is a profit sharing contract signed recently between the union and the Saramar Aluminum Co., over in Youngstown, Ohio.

Many take it as a sign of the new union policy, though their leaders say it's just a one shot.

The district director who worked it out is Jim Griffin. It's complex. But, as he explained it to me, about 32 per cent of the profit left after the company uses a part of it for research and development, goes into a special trust fund.

The money is held by a bank. The workers get their share only when they leave, or their estate gets it when they pass on. This means it's really a pension-type old age nest egg.

But what Griffin now wants, and will urge on the union's policy committee, will be a profit sharing system to cover laid-off workers as well. In other words, a move is developing which will give those laid off by a plant a share in its earnings.

IN ADDITION, the union leaders are planning to ask for what is in effect a guaranteed wage for anywhere from three-quarters of a year to a full year.

This, plus wage increases and other welfare benefits, would cost the industry hundreds of millions of dollars. The industry will not grant it.

Not so long ago, Joseph Block of Chicago, president of Inland Steel — and one of President Kennedy's labor-management advisory committeemen — said the steel industry is in danger. Rising labor costs, said Block, were primarily responsible.

The steel industry, he charged, is being pressured to hold down prices. The pressure, of course, is coming from the White House.

And when I was in the Southwest recently, R. Heath Larry, U.S. Steel administrative vice president in charge of labor relations, also laid it on the line in a speech over in Austin.

THIS U.S. STEEL executive said, "there must be an understanding of the law of life that as security expands, freedom declines. Moreover, that efforts to achieve employe security in contract provisions can only be as effective as the ability of the employer to maintain and expand the markets for his products. . ."

There's no meeting of the minds here. If Dave McDonald is serious, it can only mean a strike shortly after the contracts expire next June 30. That will make it a hot summer, especially around the White House.

Flurries Due

By Truman Twill

It says in the paper that snow flurries are on the way. That's not half of what's on the way.

This country is full of auto drivers who fly apart at the sight of snow. If some of it sticks to the pavement they grow hysterical.

If it piles up on highways and in driveways they bid for commitment to the main grounds of the who-dat house. And if their driving wheels fail to catch hold when they shoot the gas to Ole Paint, they run amuck.

I can sit here on a snowless day and predict what will happen, down to the whine of a pair of tire's being tortured at curbside.

There will be drivers who will get stuck at intersections for no better reason than failure to know how to operate their cars.

Hundreds will forget the rudimentary principles of putting on brakes and will skid into ditches.

Thousands will start through a hard winter without enough battery power to light a flashlight and will have to be pushed, pulled, comforted and cajoled.

It is as though some drivers never heard of a shovel, a tow rope, a bucket of sand, a workable jack, or radiator antifreeze.

Automobiles will be abandoned in flocks on streets built to accommodate moving traffic and will be permitted by malfeasant officials to nestle there in dirty snowdrifts till Spring.

Auto passengers will be asphyxiated by fumes from leaky exhaust pipes.

Radiators will freeze up and bust.

Motorists will swell up and swear.

Hands and feet will be frozen. Pistons will crack. Heart attacks will be incurred in efforts to do the impossible with stuck two-ton cars and 150-pound humans.

Not one of us in a thousand should be trusted with an automobile when there's snow on the ground. As Winter wears on we'll get better, but when it starts we won't be worth the phhtt of a balky engine with fouled plugs and worn-out set of distributor points.

Whenever I dared to think I was getting the hang of it last Winter I remembered what happened in the first big snowstorm.

I took a detour to get around a wreck that blocked the road and ended eventually at an intersection I was sure I never had seen before.

A filling station attendant told me I was at a place I could have reached only by making two 90-degree turns, one to the left, one to the right — and I was not aware of having made any turns at all.

I was an intersection — I had been driving through it for 12 years, yet I'd never seen it before.

This is the kind of thing that can happen to people in automobiles when snow falls. Everything goes sour. Windshield wipers won't work. Radiators leak. Tires grow temperamental. Judgment springs a leak and common sense stalls.

It says in the paper snow flurries are due.

Chances are they won't amount to much. But the hysteria and damfoolishness that will accompany the snow will be almost beyond belief. We'd all do well to stay wherever we are until the sun shines again.

Women Injured In Tavern Battle

Two women were hurt in a scuffle in a downtown tavern Thursday night and each named the other as the aggressor, police said.

Mrs. Betty Adams, 37, of 802 Lincoln Ave. was treated at City Hospital for cuts and scratches of the face which she said were suffered when she was hit on the face by a glass wielded by Mrs. Betty Kauffman, 33, of 212 Jefferson St., Newell. Mrs. Kauffman was admitted to the hospital with injuries suffered in the same fracas, but was released two hours later, the hospital said.

Mrs. Adams told police she was seated in Gene's Bar, 115 E. 6th St., about 8 last night when Mrs. Kauffman approached and "started an argument." Mrs. Adams said she asked Mrs. Kauffman to leave, but the argument continued. Mrs. Adams said Mrs. Kauffman struck her three times with a glass which she was carrying in her hand. Mrs. Adams said she then struck Mrs. Kauffman.

Mrs. Kauffman blamed Mrs. Adams for the fight. She said she was talking to another person at the bar when Mrs. Adams intervened.

"I asked her to mind her own business, but she struck me and knocked me to the floor," she told police. "I got up and struck her back."

70 Attend Dinner On FHA Program

LISBON — Seventy attended the dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Valley Golf Club in Columbiana in which Stratford E. McKenrick, zone operations commissioner with the Federal Housing Administration in Washington, explained the FHA home improvement plan.

He discussed allotments and how projects must meet FHA approval for aid in financing. Since FHA has been operating, the county has had only 468 homes financed by the FHA and in 1960 only 10 were approved.

He suggested that Columbiana County doesn't have any large industrial developments, which create a home shortage.

Youngstown Driver Draws Fine And Jail

LISBON — William D. Brown, 63, of Youngstown was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail Thursday by Mayor Dean Stockman for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by police Wednesday evening on Washington St.

In another case, Eugene T. McMurray, 47, of Columbiana was fined $10 and costs for ignoring a stop light. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol within the village.

Truck Bumps Woman Afoot

A Gardendale woman was injured slighlty Thursday afternoon when bumped by a light truck as she walked across Broadway and the driver was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way to the pedestrian, police reported.

Mrs. Genevieve Cunningham, 49, of Harrison St. was released after she was examined and X-rayed at City Hospital for possible injuries of the left arm and the skull.

Police said she was bumped while on Broadway at E. 6th St. about 12:40 by a 1958 model pickup truck operated by Charles E. Harris, 44, of Lisbon St., who was cited.

Harris was fined $10 and costs when he entered a guilty plea today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

"I don't know where she came from," he told the judge. "I looked up and there she was—right in front of me."

Mrs. Cunningham told police she was crossing Broadway from east to west with the traffic signal in her favor. She said she was about half way across the wide intersection when the truck knocked her to the pavement.

Harris reported he was turning from E. 6th St. onto Broadway, officers said. He said the pedestrian had the right-of-way but he did not see her because he was watching two other pedestrians crossing at the same point, officers said. Harris took Mrs. Cunningham to the hospital for treatment, officers reported.

A Chester woman was hurt and a Midland driver was cited in another mishap Thursday at 7:04 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

The collision involved a halted 1960 two-door sedan operated by Robert B. Smith, 49, of Pyramus St., Chester, and a 1956 auto driven by Ronald C. Hill, 45, of the Balkan Hotel, Midland, officers said.

Mrs. Smith complained of a neck injury after the mishap and said she would consult her family physician, police said. Hill failed to halt at the scene, but was arrested a short time later by Midland police on a charge of operating an auto without a driver's license, officers said.

Hill agreed to return to East Liverpool. He posted a $32.50 bond on a hit-skip charge, which was forfeited today when he failed to appear for a hearing.

Smith told police he halted on Pennsylvania Ave., preparing to turn into the Thorofare Market lot, and his car was hit from the rear by Hill's. Hill admitted striking Smith's car and added: "I just wasn't thinking," officers reported

City Man Held For Arson In Blaze In Car

A 21-year-old city man who pleaded guilty to setting fire to an auto to collect insurance last Friday in Chester, was committed to the Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland Thursday afternoon on a charge of arson.

Kenneth Edward Broadbent, 229 W. 4th St., was arrested by Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens following an investigation conducted yesterday afternoon at the Chester City Hall.

Broadbent, following questioning by Lennens and State Fire Marshal C. R. Cobb of Charleston, signed a confession that he had dropped a lighted cigarette in a box of paper towels in a 1959 convertible so he could collect the insurance.

The car, owned by his father, Arthur Broadbent, 805 Wood St., Wellsville, was parked by the youth last Friday night at the rear of the Goddard Bakers, Inc., of Virginia Ave., where the son is employed.

Broadbent was taken yesterday to Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland for a preliminary hearing and bound over to the Hancock Grand Jury. He was jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond.

The fire in the car last week was discovered by Angelo Cicarelli of Virginia Ave. He went to the bakery and notified Broadbent, who took a fire extinguisher out to use on the blaze.

Ciccarelli also phoned firemen from his home and the fire was out of control when the volunteers arrived.

The investigation was requested by Fire Chief William Glover.

Women Injured In Tavern Battle

Two women were hurt in a scuffle in a downtown tavern Thursday night and each named the other as the aggressor, police said.

Mrs. Betty Adams, 37, of 802 Lincoln Ave. was treated at City Hospital for cuts and scratches of the face which she said were suffered when she was hit on the face by a glass wielded by Mrs. Betty Kauffman, 33, of 212 Jefferson St., Newell. Mrs. Kauffman was admitted to the hospital with injuries suffered in the same fracas, but was released two hours later, the hospital said.

Mrs. Adams told police she was seated in Gene's Bar, 115 E. 6th St., about 8 last night when Mrs. Kauffman approached and "started an argument." Mrs. Adams said she asked Mrs. Kauffman to leave, but the argument continued. Mrs. Adams said Mrs. Kauffman struck her three times with a glass which she was carrying in her hand. Mrs. Adams said she then struck Mrs. Kauffman.

Mrs. Kauffman blamed Mrs. Adams for the fight. She said she was talking to another person at the bar when Mrs. Adams intervened.

"I asked her to mind her own business, but she struck me and knocked me to the floor," she told police. "I got up and struck her back."

70 Attend Dinner On FHA Program

LISBON — Seventy attended the dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Valley Golf Club in Columbiana in which Stratford E. McKenrick, zone operations commissioner with the Federal Housing Administration in Washington, explained the FHA home improvement plan.

He discussed allotments and how projects must meet FHA approval for aid in financing. Since FHA has been operating, the county has had only 468 homes financed by the FHA and in 1960 only 10 were approved.

He suggested that Columbiana County doesn't have any large industrial developments, which create a home shortage.

Auditor Kenneth Bell presided and Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem gave the invocation.

Youngstown Driver Draws Fine And Jail

LISBON — William D. Brown, 63, of Youngstown was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail Thursday by Mayor Dean Stockman for driving while intoxicated. He was cited by police Wednesday evening on Washington St.

In another case, Eugene T. McMurray, 47, of Columbiana was fined $10 and costs for ignoring a stop light. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol within the village.

Truck Bumps Woman Afoot

A Gardendale woman was injured slighlty Thursday afternoon when bumped by a light truck as she walked across Broadway and the driver was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way to the pedestrian, police reported.

Mrs. Genevieve Cunningham, 49, of Harrison St. was released after she was examined and X-rayed at City Hospital for possible injuries of the left arm and the skull.

Police said she was bumped while on Broadway at E. 6th St. about 12:40 by a 1958 model pickup truck operated by Charles E. Harris, 44, of Lisbon St., who was cited.

Harris was fined $10 and costs when he entered a guilty plea today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

"I don't know where she came from," he told the judge. "I looked up and there she was—right in front of me."

Mrs. Cunningham told police she was crossing Broadway from east to west with the traffic signal in her favor. She said she was about half way across the wide intersection when the truck knocked her to the pavement.

Harris reported he was turning from E. 6th St. onto Broadway, officers said. He said the pedestrian had the right-of-way but he did not see her because he was watching two other pedestrians crossing at the same point, officers said. Harris took Mrs. Cunningham to the hospital for treatment, officers reported.

A Chester woman was hurt and a Midland driver was cited in another mishap Thursday at 7:04 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

The collision involved a halted 1960 two-door sedan operated by Robert B. Smith, 49, of Pyramus St., Chester, and a 1956 auto driven by Ronald C. Hill, 45, of the Balkan Hotel, Midland, officers said.

Mrs. Smith complained of a neck injury after the mishap and said she would consult her family physician, police said. Hill failed to halt at the scene, but was arrested a short time later by Midland police on a charge of operating an auto without a driver's license, officers said.

Hill agreed to return to East Liverpool. He posted a $32.50 bond on a hit-skip charge, which was forfeited today when he failed to appear for a hearing.

Smith told police he halted on Pennsylvania Ave., preparing to turn into the Thorofare Market lot, and his car was hit from the rear by Hill's. Hill admitted striking Smith's car and added: "I just wasn't thinking," officers reported

A 21-year-old city man who pleaded guilty to setting fire to an auto to collect insurance last Friday in Chester, was committed to the Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland Thursday afternoon on a charge of arson.

Kenneth Edward Broadbent, 229 W. 4th St., was arrested by Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens following an investigation conducted yesterday afternoon at the Chester City Hall.

Broadbent, following questioning by Lennens and State Fire Marshal C. R. Cobb of Charleston, signed a confession that he had dropped a lighted cigarette in a box of paper towels in a 1959 convertible so he could collect the insurance.

The car, owned by his father, Arthur Broadbent, 805 Wood St., Wellsville, was parked by the youth last Friday night at the rear of the Goddard Bakers, Inc., of Virginia Ave., where the son is employed.

Broadbent was taken yesterday to Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland for a preliminary hearing and bound over to the Hancock Grand Jury. He was jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond.

The fire in the car last week was discovered by Angelo Ciccarelli of Virginia Ave. He went to the bakery and notified Broadbent, who took a fire extinguisher out to use on the blaze.

Ciccarelli also phoned firemen from his home and the fire was out of control when the volunteers arrived.

The investigation was requested by Fire Chief William Glover.

City Student Elected As County Chairman

Sam Estel of East Liverpool was elected county chairman and Carol Price of East Palestine vice chairman of the Ohio Youth Traffic Safety Conference during the seventh annual Tri-State Youth Traffic Safety Conference Thursday night at Westgate School.

Entitled "Operation Living," the conference featured talks by Glenn S. Aston-Reese, driver education instructor for educational TV Channel 13 of Pittsburgh, and Dr. A. K. Davison, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church; group discussions and a summary by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

IN HIS address, Reese stressed the driver education helps reduce accidents and is a type of citizen training that aids youngsters in taking their place in the world.

The problem of driving is the students' problem and adults must look to them for future leadership in the field.

Dr. Davison cited the moral aspects of driving, pointing out life is man's greatest asset and once taken away it cannot be given back.

In the group discussion on "Personal Attitudes," the majority believed attitudes can cause accidents but driver education can help give better control of emotions.

Girls have a responsibility to caution boys to drive slower and more carefully. In discussing the question of cars vs. scholarship, there was a varied opinion. Some felt a car will cause a student to give up education with others believing a car might spur students on to higher education.

The group discussing youth and traffic law enforcement reported that youths expect to be treated as adults "so those old enough to drive are old enough to take adult punishment."

Chronic violators should lose their licenses and some sort of recognition should be given the good as well as the bad driver.

Estel was the chairman with Elaine Vohar recorder and H. Judson English adult consultant.

Students can promote safety by talking among themselves, the group discussing "Patterson for Action" said. Driver education students should talk to others because the attitude shown would bring out the value of the training.

THE GROUP decided the age limit to qualify for a driver's license should not be raised to 18, but added that at 16 drivers should have the driver training course.

Health examinations also should be required of drivers, it said. Tom Futhey served as chairman with Patty McVay recorder and Richard J. Hawkins consultant.

Some of the group discussing specific youth problems felt driver training should be compulsory.

However, the feelings varied about the use of marked and unmarked patrol cars. Radar should be used with some restrictions, it reported.

The group also discussed the possibility of issuing a pamphlet on safe driving before high school proms, pointing out students are tired following a prom and accidents can happen more easily.

IT SAID THE emotions of a ball game have been shown in the attitude of a driver and his driving.

The entire group reported the State Highway Patrol's color film, "Signal 30" discussing traffic deaths, should be shown to more people.

Prior to the group discussions, Richard Andrews, president of the ELHS Driving Club, discussed the topics to be discussed.

Following the panel discussions, Judge Chertoff gave the summary.

The program opened with a dinner in the school cafeteria with Kay Rollins chairman. The invocation was given by the Rev. John L. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Partially visible in the rear are Richard Herriott of East Palestine and John W. Creamer of Youngstown South, first vice chairman of the Kent State regional conference.

SOME OF THE ADULTS participating in the traffic safety conference discuss the program. Left to right are Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, State Highway Patrolman J. J. Wattleworth, Trooper Don Mahoney of the Pennsylvania State Police at Beaver Falls, Chief John Hephner of Wellsville and C. D. Congo Marks Holiday

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo, (AP) — Today was a public holiday in the Congo — National Army Day. Army headquarters in Leopoldville said it would be observed without any specific ceremony or celebration.

Facts You Should Know About Septic Tanks

A Septic Tank is actually the "stomach" of the disposal system, its purpose being to digest and liquefy the solids entering it, discharging liquids to the disposal area.

In general, Septic Tanks are constructed of steel or concrete, varying in size from 500 to 10,000 gallon capacities. Correctly made and installed, they form an airtight and watertight chamber.

The inlet carries the raw sewage into the first chamber of the tank. Most of the solids will settle to the bottom of this chamber, developing bacterial colonies which "feed" on these solids. This bottom layer is termed, "sludge". A crust or "mat" will usually form on the top, this being composed mainly of grease and fatty substances which have a tendency to float. The second chamber enables further clarification of the water prior to passing out to the drainage area. Water leaving a Septic Tank is referred to as "effluent."

Septic Tanks will operate satisfactorily as long as the "mat" and "sludge" do not build up to the point where they start feeding through into the second chamber, and then out to the drainage area. Unfortunately, most people wait until the system "backs-up", which means that the tank is completely clogged and that large amounts of solids have passed through with the effluent.

Most Septic Tank failures are caused by (1) introduction of chemicals which destroy the bacteria life, (2) overloading, i.e., putting more into the tank in any 24-hr. period than its designed capacity, (3) temperature changes which slow down the bacterial digestion, and (4) excessive use of greases and fats.

Regular use of "SEA-CAL", preferably combined with an initial "seeding" of the tank with "SEA-CAL" will usually eliminate all of the problems by introducing powerful glandular enzymes which accelerate the digestive action and prevent the passage of solids to the drainage area. Enzymes, such as are used in "SEA-CAL", are also extremely resistant to temperature and pH changes, and the addition of millions of bacterial cultures (80,000,000 per gram) in SEA-CAL replaces the bacterial colonies that may have been destroyed.

It would be untrue to state that a Septic Tank need never be pumped, since sewage can only be digested to a point of "ash" and the introduction of inorganic materials such as sand, grit, metal, and glass, will create a build-up over a period of time that will have to be removed. However, with regular monthly treatments of SEA-CAL, these pumpings should occur only at ten or twenty-year intervals.

Murder

lets apparently were spent after passing through the woman's skull, as they would have been embedded deeply in the ground if they had not struck some object first.

A large pool of dried blood found underneath the spot where the dead girl's body was lying also added to the theory that she was killed at that spot and not hauled there from another point. Bleeding from the massive wound would have halted at death, the investigators pointed out.

Yesterday's discoveries tied in with the conclusions that were reached in the initial investigation Wednesday — that the woman's body was dragged from a vehicle on the isolated road downgrade to the point where it was found.

However, the original theory was that she was dead when she was dragged down the embankment after having been killed at some other spot.

Earth also was removed from the murder spot yesterday in a makeshift container in hopes that minute examination or laboratory tests will disclose further clues.

Mrs. Boyd had been reported missing since Nov. 4 from the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hall of California Hollow about a mile north of the city limits, where she had resided since she and her husband separated in August. He is William Boyd Jr., who resides on Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. Boyd told police he last saw his estranged wife Nov. 4 at a tavern, speaking to her briefly.

A man who gave his name as Roger Smith telephoned police early Wednesday afternoon and said he found a woman's body while hunting. He promised to go to the scene later to give details, but never appeared, police said.

Painstaking interrogation of dozens of witnesses has allowed the investigators to trace Mrs. Boyd's movements at least partially up until 2 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10 — just a day short of a week from the time she was reported missing.

A witness was located yesterday who recalled talking with Mrs. Boyd on that Friday afternoon on Dresden Ave., Chief Radeschi said.

Previously, her movements had been traced up until 10 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8.

Another witness was located yesterday who reported seeing Mrs. Boyd between 7:30 and 7:35 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, in a local restaurant, the chief added. The witness made positive identification because he was a former school classmate of Mrs. Boyd's.

The sheriff's investigators and local police have concentrated on locating and talking with every person who associated with the girl—particularly those known to have been in her company after she left her California Hollow home. They pointed out there are literally dozens of leads to be checked out.

The sheriff and the chief today appealed for information on what place or places Mrs. Boyd stayed after she left the home of her aunt and uncle.

"We feel positive that she stayed here somewhere — that she was not away from this section despite her reported disappearance," they said.

"We hope that persons with whom she stayed will come forward with information that will help us in our investigation."

Merger

The certification on the number of valid signatures will be sent today to the county superintendent, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, announced.

The board also will certify that a total vote of 321 was cast in the Franklin Local district at the November 1960 general election. Complying with a request of the County School Board, it also will certify that 2,027 votes were cast at the same election in the former Southern Local district.

Law says that before such a question may be put to a vote, a petition must be presented bearing signatures representing at least 35 per cent of the vote cast in the affected area at the last preceding general election.

One of the questions the County School Board must decide is whether the 35 per cent requirement covers only Franklin Local or whether the percentage should be computed against the total vote cast in both the districts — Southern and Franklin.

A conference on this issue was scheduled this afternoon at Lisbon with Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who granted the mandamus on submitting the petition to the election board.

Due to take part were Atty. John Bauknecht and Atty. William Tallmon, counsel for Fred Johnson of Summitville, who filed for the mandamus, and County Prosecutor William Brokaw and Atty. Donald Elliott of the County Board of Education.

The petition carried only signatures of Franklin Local electors and every one was valid, O'Hanlon said.

O'Hanlon said the signatures were given "extremely close scrutiny" and the board and its staff made checks against poll books, and poll lists and made personal inquiries in a few cases seeking verification of names.

Franklin and Southern Local districts were merged by the County Board in August, but Franklin residents last week won a mandamus action asking the petition be certified to the Election Board for a check.

There never has been a clear-cut decision whether the issue would be voted upon only in the former Franklin Local area or in both Franklin and Southern Local. If the issue is put to a vote, it probably will be at a special election.

County Health Board To Discuss Dumping

LISBON — A proposed regulation providing for more strict control of dumping operations is slated for review at a meeting of the Columbiana County Board of Health Monday night at 8 at the Courthouse.

Representatives of the Jet Aeration Co., a sewage concern, will also meet with the board, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, said. The firm manufactures an aeration system for home sewage disposal.

Murder

lets apparently were spent after passing through the woman's skull, as they would have been embedded deeply in the ground if they had not struck some object first.

A large pool of dried blood found underneath the spot where the dead girl's body was lying also added to the theory that she was killed at that spot and not hauled there from another point. Bleeding from the massive wound would have halted at death, the investigators pointed out.

Yesterday's discoveries tied in with the conclusions that were reached in the initial investigation Wednesday — that the woman's body was dragged from a vehicle on the isolated road downgrade to the point where it was found.

However, the original theory was that she was dead when she was dragged down the embankment after having been killed at some other spot.

Earth also was removed from the murder spot yesterday in a makeshift container in hopes that minute examination or laboratory tests will disclose further clues.

Mrs. Boyd had been reported missing since Nov. 4 from the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hall of California Hollow about a mile north of the city limits, where she had resided since she and her husband separated in August. He is William Boyd Jr., who resides on Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. Boyd told police he last saw his estranged wife Nov. 4 at a tavern, speaking to her briefly.

A man who gave his name as Roger Smith telephoned police early Wednesday afternoon and said he found a woman's body while hunting. He promised to go to the scene later to give details, but never appeared, police said.

Painstaking interrogation of dozens of witnesses has allowed the investigators to trace Mrs. Boyd's movements at least partially up until 2 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10 — just a day short of a week from the time she was reported missing.

A witness was located yesterday who recalled talking with Mrs. Boyd on that Friday afternoon on Dresden Ave., Chief Radeschi said.

Previously, her movements had been traced up until 10 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8.

Another witness was located yesterday who reported seeing Mrs. Boyd between 7:30 and 7:35 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, in a local restaurant, the chief added. The witness made positive identification because he was a former school classmate of Mrs. Boyd's.

The sheriff's investigators and local police have concentrated on locating and talking with every person who associated with the girl—particularly those known to have been in her company after she left her California Hollow home. They pointed out there are literally dozens of leads to be checked out.

The sheriff and the chief today appealed for information on what place or places Mrs. Boyd stayed after she left the home of her aunt and uncle.

"We feel positive that she stayed here somewhere — that she was not away from this section despite her reported disappearance," they said.

"We hope that persons with whom she stayed will come forward with information that will help us in our investigation."

Merger

The certification on the number of valid signatures will be sent today to the county superintendent, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, announced.

The board also will certify that a total vote of 321 was cast in the Franklin Local district at the November 1960 general election. Complying with a request of the County School Board, it also will certify that 2,027 votes were cast at the same election in the former Southern Local district.

Law says that before such a question may be put to a vote, a petition must be presented bearing signatures representing at least 35 per cent of the vote cast in the affected area at the last preceding general election.

One of the questions the County School Board must decide is whether the 35 per cent requirement covers only Franklin Local or whether the percentage should be computed against the total vote cast in both the districts — Southern and Franklin.

A conference on this issue was scheduled this afternoon at Lisbon with Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who granted the mandamus on submitting the petition to the election board.

Due to take part were Atty. John Bauknecht and Atty. William Tallmon, counsel for Fred Johnson of Summitville, who filed for the mandamus, and County Prosecutor William Brokaw and Atty. Donald Elliott of the County Board of Education.

The petition carried only signatures of Franklin Local electors and every one was valid, O'Hanlon said.

O'Hanlon said the signatures were given "extremely close scrutiny" and the board and its staff made checks against poll books, and poll lists and made personal inquiries in a few cases seeking verification of names.

Franklin and Southern Local districts were merged by the County Board in August, but Franklin residents last week won a mandamus action asking the petition be certified to the Election Board for a check.

There never has been a clear-cut decision whether the issue would be voted upon only in the former Franklin Local area or in both Franklin and Southern Local. If the issue is put to a vote, it probably will be at a special election.

County Health Board To Discuss Dumping

LISBON — A proposed regulation providing for more strict control of dumping operations is slated for review at a meeting of the Columbiana County Board of Health Monday night at 8 at the Courthouse.

Representatives of the Jet Aeration Co., a sewage concern, will also meet with the board, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, said. The firm manufactures an aeration system for home sewage disposal.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend and I are having a disagreement. He's a fast talker and uses a lot of big words, so I'm no match for him.

Last week we went to a nice place for dinner. There was a clothes rack by the door for men's coats. Ron hung his new raincoat there. After dinner his coat was gone. The manager said they are not responsible for such losses.

Two nights later he went back alone and helped himself to a raincoat which was much nicer than his own—and it fit him perfectly. When he bragged to me about it I was shocked.

Dear Deadlocked: When a person takes something which does not belong to him it is stealing.

Ron's theory that he was "getting even" is a phony. The poor guy whose coat Ron heisted was not responsible for Ron's loss. Why should he be punished? He behaved like the man who knocks his toe on the bedpost and kicks the cat.

Stick To Poker

Dear Ann: Nine of us girls have been playing poker together for more than 15 years. We've had our little differences but after all's said and done we are devoted to each other.

There are rumors around town about the husband of one of our poker circle. He is said to be having an affair with a young girl in his office. We aren't gossip mongers, Ann, but when three of us hear the same story from different sources there must be something to it.

I asked my husband if we should tell the wife. He said to keep our noses out of it.

Don't you feel that in the name of friendship we should wise her up? — TRUE BLUES.

Dear Blues: In the name of friendship, keep quiet. The way to make a mountain out of a molehill is to keep adding the dirt.

Unwanted Advice

Dear Ann: I'm 21 and engaged to be married soon. My mother passed away when I was 16 but I've had good, solid upbringing.

My fiance told me last night that his mother wants to have a talk with me on sex in marriage. She feels that since my own mother is dead it's her place.

Frankly, there are some unanswered questions in my mind but she's the last person in the world I'd ask. She's the prying type who constantly is pumping for information. Recently she asked me some questions which I felt were none of her business. I had a hard time controlling my temper.

My fiance says she'll feel hurt if I refuse to have this talk. Should I sit there and grit my teeth to pacify her? — G. R.

Dear G. R.: Tell your fiance that the little chat is unnecessary but you appreciate her interest.

For those "unanswered questions" talk to your doctor—or for less clinical information see a marriage counselor.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Highway Officer Cited For Crashing Light

CLEVELAND (AP)—Parma authorities have charged state highway patrolman Carl Jobe, 31, with crashing a red light in connection with a collision at a Parma intersection. Jobe is in fair condition in Parma Community Hospital.

Two other persons also were injured in the collision. Jobe, stationed at the patrol's Medina post, was off duty when the accident happened Wednesday morning.

The popular song "On the Banks of the Wabash" was written by Paul Dresser, brother of the novelist Theodore Dreiser.

Dayton Bus Strike Reaches Third Day

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Daytonians were without city bus service today for the third straight day. No sign of relief was in sight—only the prospect of higher fares when the bus strike ends.

The City Commission, in an emergency meeting Thursday night, granted the fare hike asked by the City Transit Co. But the hike was made contingent upon striking bus drivers accepting the company's present offer.

The CTC had said it would give the drivers a 21-cent hourly wage increase over a 41-month contract period provided the city agreed to a fare hike.

Dayton Bus Strike Reaches Third Day

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Daytonians were without city bus service today for the third straight day. No sign of relief was in sight—only the prospect of higher fares when the bus strike ends.

The City Commission, in an emergency meeting Thursday night, granted the fare hike asked by the City Transit Co. But the hike was made contingent upon striking bus drivers accepting the company's present offer.

The CTC had said it would give the drivers a 21-cent hourly wage increase over a 41-month contract period provided the city agreed to a fare hike.

Potters End 56th Grid Season...

Tonight the East Liverpool Potters end their 56th season of high school football. It all started back in 1904, when only one game appeared on the schedule.

Not too much can be said about the season which is about to close with the Potters heading for a 3-7 record, as predicted in this column before the season opened.

However, East Liverpool is rich in tales of the gridiron as the sport has progressed over the years.

We are accustomed to night football now, but before 1931 the Potters never played under the lights at Patterson Field. The first night game in ELHS football history took place Oct. 10, 1931, against Toronto.

East Liverpool showed the lights were to their liking in gaining a 20-12 win. Bob Hall scored two touchdowns and Garner McCoy got the other. Hall's TD's came on runs of 80 and 60 yards.

Canton Fan 'Tripped Up' Potters...

THE STORY that ranks as the best oddity in grid history here goes back to 1932.

A near-riot took place in the Canton McKinley game that year. A Canton player fumbled on the East Liverpool 10-yard line and Bob Kapp, now a local attorney, grabbed the ball and started downfield.

Kapp broke into the clear on the Canton 30, but a Canton fan decided to assist the Bulldogs and jumped out of the stands and tripped the Potter runner.

A violent argument followed among players, coaches and officials until the officials finally awarded East Liverpool the touchdown. The Potters went on to gain a 12-7 victory.

The Immortal Bill Booth...

THE IMMORTAL Bill Booth appeared on the scene in 1933. His story is legend now and the annual Bill Booth award is given in his honor.

During the 1933 season, records show that Booth ran 100 yards for a touchdown with an intercepted pass and in six games gained 850 yards and was selected to the All-Ohio team picked by the Columbus Jaycees, the first all-scholastic team ever selected.

That same year coach Leland Schachern in a quote to the newspaper was asked if the Potters were going to have a scrimmage before the season started, Schachern replied, "What with?" In a city of 23,000, only 23 boys were listed on the varsity squad.

EAST LIVERPOOL defeated East Palestine, 12-6, in the first game played in the new stadium, but the stadium was officially dedicated in the Martins Ferry game, the Riders spoiling the affair with a 19-0 win.

THE BIG flood hit in 1936 and so did Weirton, coming to East Liverpool with a 25-game win streak extending over three seasons.

Weirton fans planned a torchlight parade back home after the victory but the Potters put their lights out by coming out on top with a 13-7 win.

Ray Duffy scored both TD's.

Get This, Fans...

GET THIS, in 1936 the crowd at the Wellsville-East Liverpool game was the largest ever to attend a game at Patterson Field. Paid admissions totaled 8,643. Last week's crowd at Patterson Field was lucky to hit 1,200. What has happened sports fans?

—:—

IN 1944, Martins Ferry which resembled its present team, was unbeaten, untied and unscored upon until the Potters smashed the Riders with a 14-0 victory. Henry Pack scored both TD's. Sam Winters was named on the third All-Ohio team, while Alonzo Spencer gained honorable mention that season.

The fine 1944 season was a forerunner of the undefeated team of 1945. It was the top record by a Potter team up until that time.

The Potters tied two games that year. One tie was with Ashtabula and came in the last 80 seconds on a pass from Don Wolfe to Chuck Means. The Potters were rated seventh in the state that season.

Dick O'Hanlon, who later went to Ohio State and now is a sales manager out of Buffalo, was named to the first All-Ohio team, with Means third team and Spencer and Don Jackson gaining honorable mention.

Watts Came On Scene...

WADE WATTS appeared on the scene in 1949 and started East Liverpool on the way back up in football. His 1951 team showed an 8-2 record and the following year the Potters won nine and tied one for the best mark in the school's history. They were rated third in the final state poll.

BOB GIBSON replaced Watts in 1953. After two years of rebuilding, Gibson guided the Potters to the top record in the school's history with 10 straight victories.

Jim Potts, Gene Bell, Bert Dorsey and Jack Bryan gained all-state honors. The backfield was called the best in the state, with Potts, Bell, John Nott and Jim Perkins gaining most of the 3,463 yards on the ground for the Potters.

THE LOU Venditti era followed and some of the finest quarterbacks ever to throw a football came up under Venditti, along with other outstanding gridders.

They included Bernie Allen, who went on to star for Purdue; Bob Mackall, now at Northwestern, and Ken Cunningham. Each was an all-state quarterback.

This 'N That In Sports...

WE HAVE reached the end of another football trail, which found the district's 17 schools participating in 158 games.

Our predictions, although they dropped off last week, hit a little better than .700 for the season. Alliance should be able to name its own score tonight, but we will attempt to help the Aviators and call it: Alliance 36, East Liverpool 0.

On the same squad was a trio from Chester — John Steele, Larry McSweigen and Ken Sayre.

TURNING to the bowling alleys for a minute, Lou Gengarella of Midland tossed a rare triplicate when he wound up with three games of 167 Monday night at the Don-Bus Alleys. Lou was rolling in the National League.

BILL DUNN, the ex-Beaver Local athlete, is in "sick bay" for awhile with a fractured ankle suffered in a naval base football game in Puerto Rico. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn of Lisbon R. D.

—:—

CHESTER'S all-state basketball star of two years ago — Dave Brookes — will be in the starting lineup tonight for Malone College which opens its season at South Bend, Ind., against Bethel College. Brookes was the leading scorer for the Canton school last season.

8 Potter Seniors In Final Game Tonight

Eight East Liverpool seniors will be wearing the Blue and White for the final time tonight when the Potters take the field against eighth-ranked Alliance at Hartshorn Stadium on the Mt. Union College campus.

Keeping in mind that tonight's is their last game, Coach Bob Hedmond is starting seven of the eight seniors on the offensive unit, while another will be on the defensive squad if he is able to play.

The seniors are Capt. Jim Ferello, Jim Richardson, Bill Burlingame, Jerry Bell, Allen Douglas, Jeff Hayes, Vince McKinnon and Gene Wolfe. The only doubtful starter is Wolfe, who has been ailing all week and hasn't been in school.

The other seven will be in the starting lineup tonight. Richardson will be at left end, with Hayes and Ferello at tackles and Burlingame at guard.

In the backfield, McKinnon will take over at quarterback, replacing Frank McComas who started last week and Chuck Baker the other signal-caller. Douglas will be at one halfback, with Bell at his regular fullback spot.

Hedmond didn't say how long he intends to use the seniors, but said they will get the starting call.

On the offensive eleven, Bruce Burbick will be at center, Jim Wilson or Dave Oliver at right guard, Bud McElhaney at end and Bill Durbin, a junior, at right halfback.

Injuries which have besieged Hedmond from the very start of the 1961 campaign continue to follow the Potter coach.

Both of his starting defensive guards will be out. Bob Parsons suffered a pinched nerve in his neck and will not dress for the game and Scotty Musuraca has a slight concussion. Ron Kennedy, the regular center, has torn ligaments and won't be ready for tonight's contest and Baker has an infected knee and hasn't been going strong in practice, Hedmond reported

With the injuries, the Potters will have to come up with five changes on defense from the lineup they had last week.

Alliance will throw a trio of fast backs at the Potters tonight. They will be led by halfback Glenn Hill, a real dash man who leads the team in scoring with 120 points and is the top yardage maker. Larry Grimes, second - leading scorer on the team, goes at fullback, with Marion Young at halfback and Jim LaFountain at quarterback.

East Liverpool suffered a 30-20 defeat at the hands of Alliance last year at Patterson Field after the Potters had led most of the way.

Alliance slipped from third place in the state ratings to eighth after losing, 30-6, to second-place Niles last week. The Aviators place an 8-2 mark on the line and show only one other defeat — to Massillon, 26-0.

Sendoff For Tonight's Game Is Called Off

An auto caravan of fans following the Potters to Alliance tonight will leave the Westgate parking lot at 6, the Blue and White Nonpareil Club said today. Russell E. Hall, president, also reported a public rally planned tonight on the Diamond to give the squadmen a sendoff has been cancelled.

'Coach' Cousy Gains Second Straight Win

By The Associated Press

With Coach Red Auerbach at the helm, the Boston Celtics have won three straight National Basketball Association titles. Without Coach Red Auerbach around, the Celts keep on winning anyway.

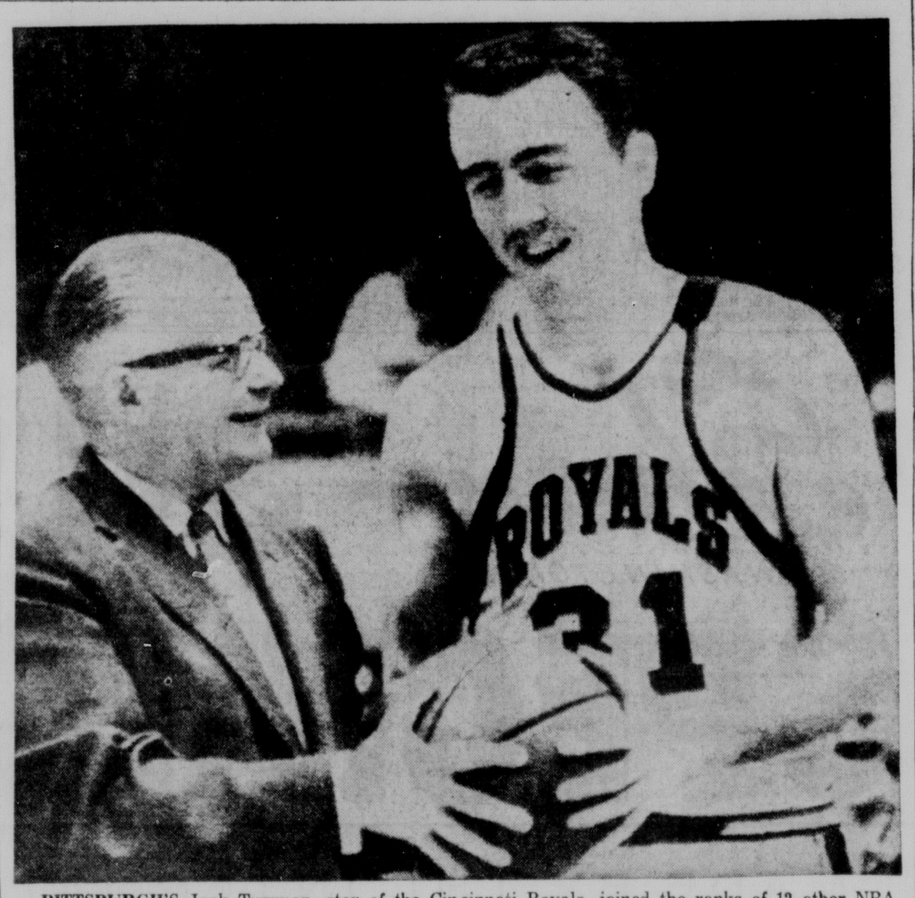

Auerbach, in the midst of a three-game suspension for pushing an official, was in the Boston locker room listening to the game on radio Thursday night as the Celtics rolled over Cincinnati 127-121.

The Royals' Jack Twyman popped in 29 points in the Cincinnati defeat, breaking into the 10,000 circle. Twyman's 10,000th point of his NBA career came on the last field goal of the first quarter and the game was held up while he received congratulations.

He is only the 13th player in the league's history to go into five figures.

Twyman's performance wasn't enough to slow the Celtics. Frank Ramsey hit on a layup to give the Celtics a 78-76 third-period lead and they stayed in front the rest of the way. It was the only game played in the league.

PITTSBURGH'S Jack Twyman, star of the Cincinnati Royals, joined the ranks of 12 other NBA basketball stars when he made his 10,000th point in seven seasons of play Thursday night at Cincinnati against the Boston Celtics. The game was stopped when the momentous point was scored and Judge Carl Rich, president of the Royals, presented Twyman with the history-making ball. (UPI Telephoto)

The Western Division lead of the new American Basketball League is up for grabs in Los Angeles tonight.

The Kansas City Steers and Los Angeles Jets, tied for the No. 1 spot in the West, tangle for the second time this season. Kansas City won the first meeting, 113-109 in Kansas City.

The Steers hold a percentage lead with a 4-2 record as opposed to Los Angeles' 5-3 mark, but they're tied in the games behind column.

Their match tops a full league schedule that also has Hawaii at Washington, Cleveland at Pittsburgh and San Francisco at Chicago.

Pittsburgh extended its Eastern Division lead to two full games with a 106-93 romp past Hawaii in the only league activity Thursday night.

Jim Palmer contributed 23 points and Connie Hawkins 15 points and 13 rebounds as the Rens rushed out to a 25-16 first-quarter lead and held it the rest of the way.

Temple Traded To Orioles

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland second baseman John Temple, the only player ever selected for the all-star starting lineup in both the National and American Leagues, was traded to the Baltimore Orioles Thursday.

Baltimore gave up Harry Chiti, a catcher in the minors last season, and two players to be named by Dec. 15 to get Temple, who is expected to solve one of the Orioles' problems for the coming season.

Indians' General Manager Gabe Paul, the only man ever to fire Jimmie Dykes as manager twice —at Cincinnati and Cleveland— also became the only man to trade Temple twice.

Paul was general manager of the Cincinnati Reds two years ago when Temple, 32, from Lexington, N.C., came to the Indians from the Reds in exchange for pitcher Cal McLish and infielders Billy Martin and Gordon Coleman.

While at Cincinnati, Temple got National League all-star recognition for four years—1956 through 1959. He was named the American League all-star second baseman last season.

He had a .268 batting average in his first season with the Indians and hit .276 last season, compared with his 10-year major league average of .288.

Chiti, 29, has seen major league service with the Chicago Cubs, the Kansas City Athletics and Detroit Tigers. He batted .201 in 95 games with Detroit in 1960. His over-all major league average is .241.

He spent last season with Denver of the American Association and Rochester o fthe International League, hitting .294 and .321, respectively

Patriots Eye Tie Tonight In AFL Tilt

By The Associated Press

Boston goes after a virtual tie for the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Football League tonight when it hosts lowly Oakland.

The Patriots, whose winning streak was snapped at three games when they fell before Houston's resurging Oilers 27-15 Sunday, will be after their sixth victory of the campaign.

If Boston wins, it will have a 6-4-1 record and be tied with Houston for the lead. Houston is 5-3-1.

This can be changed Sunday, however, because Houston plays New York at Houston. The Oilers can move out front or New York, which is in a tie for second place with Boston, can remain deadlocked with Boston, but for the lead.

Four of the six teams in the National Hockey League have new captains this season.

Potters End 56th Grid Season...

Tonight the East Liverpool Potters end their 56th season of high school football. It all started back in 1904, when only one game appeared on the schedule.

Not too much can be said about the season which is about to close with the Potters heading for a 3-7 record, as predicted in this column before the season opened.

However, East Liverpool is rich in tales of the gridiron as the sport has progressed over the years.

We are accustomed to night football now, but before 1931 the Potters never played under the lights at Patterson Field. The first night game in ELHS football history took place Oct. 10, 1931, against Toronto.

East Liverpool showed the lights were to their liking in gaining a 20-12 win. Bob Hall scored two touchdowns and Garner McCoy got the other. Hall's TD's came on runs of 80 and 60 yards.

Canton Fan 'Tripped Up' Potters...

THE STORY that ranks as the best oddity in grid history here goes back to 1932.

A near-riot took place in the Canton McKinley game that year. A Canton player fumbled on the East Liverpool 10-yard line and Bob Kapp, now a local attorney, grabbed the ball and started downfield.

Kapp broke into the clear on the Canton 30, but a Canton fan decided to assist the Bulldogs and jumped out of the stands and tripped the Potter runner.

A violent argument followed among players, coaches and officials until the officials finally awarded East Liverpool the touchdown. The Potters went on to gain a 12-7 victory.

The Immortal Bill Booth...

THE IMMORTAL Bill Booth appeared on the scene in 1933. His story is legend now and the annual Bill Booth award is given in his honor.

During the 1933 season, records show that Booth ran 100 yards for a touchdown with an intercepted pass and in six games gained 850 yards and was selected to the All-Ohio team picked by the Columbus Jaycees, the first all-scholastic team ever selected.

That same year coach Leland Schachern in a quote to the newspaper was asked if the Potters were going to have a scrimmage before the season started, Schachern replied, "What with?" In a city of 23,000, only 23 boys were listed on the varsity squad.

EAST LIVERPOOL defeated East Palestine, 12-6, in the first game played in the new stadium, but the stadium was officially dedicated in the Martins Ferry game, the Riders spoiling the affair with a 19-0 win.

THE BIG flood hit in 1936 and so did Weirton, coming to East Liverpool with a 25-game win streak extending over three seasons.

Ray Duffy scored both TD's.

Get This, Fans...

GET THIS, in 1936 the crowd at the Wellsville-East Liverpool game was the largest ever to attend a game at Patterson Field. Paid admissions totaled 8,643. Last week's crowd at Patterson Field was lucky to hit 1,200. What has happened sports fans?

Watts Came On Scene...

BOB GIBSON replaced Watts in 1953. After two years of rebuilding, Gibson guided the Potters to the top record in the school's history with 10 straight victories.

Jim Potts, Gene Bell, Bert Dorsey and Jack Bryan gained all-state honors. The backfield was called the best in the state, with Potts, Bell, John Nott and Jim Perkins gaining most of the 3,463 yards on the ground for the Potters.

THE LOU Venditti era followed and some of the finest quarterbacks ever to throw a football came up under Venditti, along with other outstanding gridders.

They included Bernie Allen, who went on to star for Purdue; Bob Mackall, now at Northwestern, and Ken Cunningham. Each was an all-state quarterback.

This 'N That In Sports...

WE HAVE reached the end of another football trail, which found the district's 17 schools participating in 158 games.

8 Potter Seniors In Final Game Tonight

Eight East Liverpool seniors will be wearing the Blue and White for the final time tonight when the Potters take the field against eighth-ranked Alliance at Hartshorn Stadium on the Mt. Union College campus.

Keeping in mind that tonight's is their last game, Coach Bob Hedmond is starting seven of the eight seniors on the offensive unit, while another will be on the defensive squad if he is able to play.

The seniors are Capt. Jim Ferello, Jim Richardson, Bill Burlingame, Jerry Bell, Allen Douglas, Jeff Hayes, Vince McKinnon and Gene Wolfe. The only doubtful starter is Wolfe, who has been ailing all week and hasn't been in school.

The other seven will be in the starting lineup tonight. Richardson will be at left end, with Hayes and Ferello at tackles and Burlingame at guard.

In the backfield, McKinnon will take over at quarterback, replacing Frank McComas who started last week and Chuck Baker the other signal-caller. Douglas will be at one halfback, with Bell at his regular fullback spot.

Hedmond didn't say how long he intends to use the seniors, but said they will get the starting call.

On the offensive eleven, Bruce Burbick will be at center, Jim Wilson or Dave Oliver at right guard, Bud McElhaney at end and Bill Durbin, a junior, at right halfback.

Injuries which have besieged Hedmond from the very start of the 1961 campaign continue to follow the Potter coach.

Both of his starting defensive guards will be out. Bob Parsons suffered a pinched nerve in his neck and will not dress for the game and Scotty Musuraca has a slight concussion. Ron Kennedy, the regular center, has torn ligaments and won't be ready for tonight's contest and Baker has an infected knee and hasn't been going strong in practice, Hedmond reported

With the injuries, the Potters will have to come up with five changes on defense from the lineup they had last week.

Alliance will throw a trio of fast backs at the Potters tonight. They will be led by halfback Glenn Hill, a real dash man who leads the team in scoring with 120 points and is the top yardage maker. Larry Grimes, second - leading scorer on the team, goes at fullback, with Marion Young at halfback and Jim LaFountain at quarterback.

East Liverpool suffered a 30-20 defeat at the hands of Alliance last year at Patterson Field after the Potters had led most of the way.

Alliance slipped from third place in the state ratings to eighth after losing, 30-6, to second-place Niles last week. The Aviators place an 8-2 mark on the line and show only one other defeat — to Massillon, 26-0.

Sendoff For Tonight's Game Is Called Off

An auto caravan of fans following the Potters to Alliance tonight will leave the Westgate parking lot at 6, the Blue and White Nonpareil Club said today. Russell E. Hall, president, also reported a public rally planned tonight on the Diamond to give the squadmen a sendoff has been cancelled.

'Coach' Cousy Gains Second Straight Win

By The Associated Press

With Coach Red Auerbach at the helm, the Boston Celtics have won three straight National Basketball Association titles. Without Coach Red Auerbach around, the Celts keep on winning anyway.

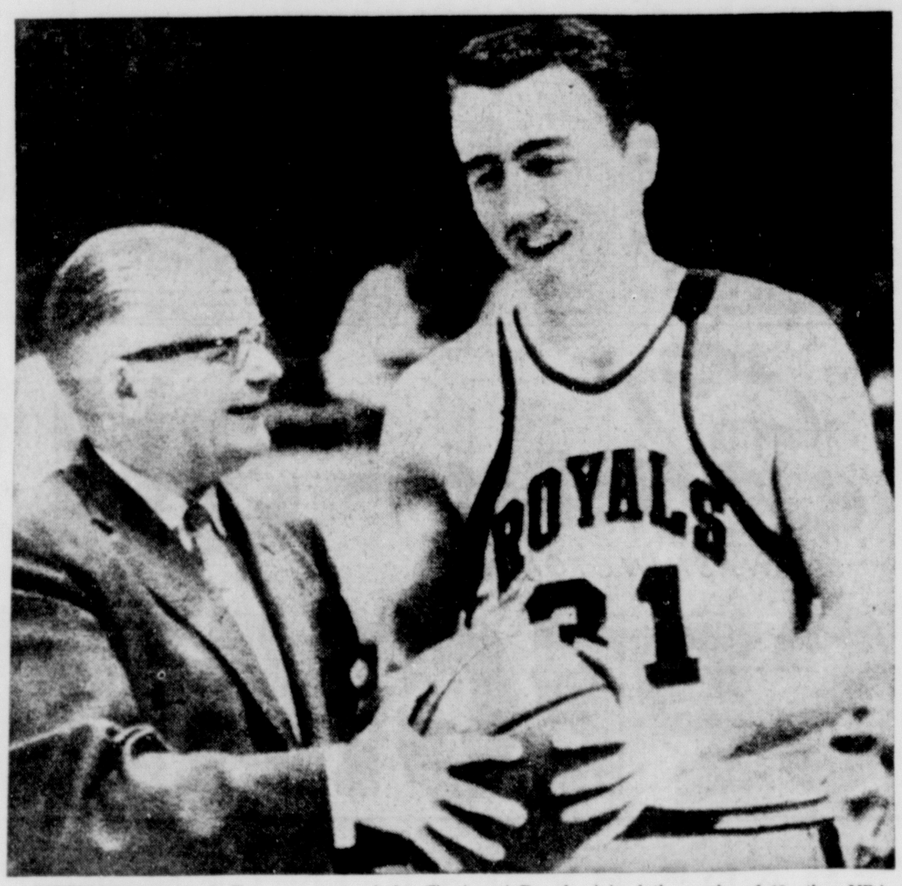

Auerbach, in the midst of a three-game suspension for pushing an official, was in the Boston locker room listening to the game on radio Thursday night as the Celtics rolled over Cincinnati 127-121.

The Royals' Jack Twyman popped in 29 points in the Cincinnati defeat, breaking into the 10,000 circle. Twyman's 10,000th point of his NBA career came on the last field goal of the first quarter and the game was held up while he received congratulations.

He is only the 13th player in the league's history to go into five figures.

Twyman's performance wasn't enough to slow the Celtics. Frank Ramsey hit on a layup to give the Celtics a 78-76 third-period lead and they stayed in front the rest of the way. It was the only game played in the league.

PITTSBURGH'S Jack Twyman, star of the Cincinnati Royals, joined the ranks of 12 other NBA basketball stars when he made his 10,000th point in seven seasons of play Thursday night at Cincinnati against the Boston Celtics. The game was stopped when the momentous point was scored and Judge Carl Rich, president of the Royals, presented Twyman with the history-making ball. (UPI Telephoto)

Rens Increase Margin, Defeat Hawaii, 106-93

By The Associated Press

The Western Division lead of the new American Basketball League is up for grabs in Los Angeles tonight.

The Kansas City Steers and Los Angeles Jets, tied for the No. 1 spot in the West, tangle for the second time this season. Kansas City won the first meeting, 113-109 in Kansas City.

The Steers hold a percentage lead with a 4-2 record as opposed to Los Angeles' 5-3 mark, but they're tied in the games behind column.

Their match tops a full league schedule that also has Hawaii at Washington, Cleveland at Pittsburgh and San Francisco at Chicago.

Pittsburgh extended its Eastern Division lead to two full games with a 106-93 romp past Hawaii in the only league activity Thursday night.

Jim Palmer contributed 23 points and Connie Hawkins 15 points and 13 rebounds as the Rens rushed out to a 25-16 first-quarter lead and held it the rest of the way.

Temple Traded To Orioles

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland second baseman John Temple, the only player ever selected for the all-star starting lineup in both the National and American Leagues, was traded to the Baltimore Orioles Thursday.

Baltimore gave up Harry Chiti, a catcher in the minors last season, and two players to be named by Dec. 15 to get Temple, who is expected to solve one of the Orioles' problems for the coming season.

Indians' General Manager Gabe Paul, the only man ever to fire Jimmie Dykes as manager twice —at Cincinnati and Cleveland— also became the only man to trade Temple twice.

Paul was general manager of the Cincinnati Reds two years ago when Temple, 32, from Lexington, N.C., came to the Indians from the Reds in exchange for pitcher Cal McLish and infielders Billy Martin and Gordon Coleman.

While at Cincinnati, Temple got National League all-star recognition for four years—1956 through 1959. He was named the American League all-star second baseman last season.

He had a .268 batting average in his first season with the Indians and hit .276 last season, compared with his 10-year major league average of .288.

Chiti, 29, has seen major league service with the Chicago Cubs, the Kansas City Athletics and Detroit Tigers. He batted .201 in 95 games with Detroit in 1960. His over-all major league average is .241.

He spent last season with Denver of the American Association and Rochester o fthe International League, hitting .294 and .321, respectively

Patriots Eye Tie Tonight In AFL Tilt

By The Associated Press

Boston goes after a virtual tie for the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Football League tonight when it hosts lowly Oakland.

The Patriots, whose winning streak was snapped at three games when they fell before Houston's resurging Oilers 27-15 Sunday, will be after their sixth victory of the campaign.

If Boston wins, it will have a 6-4-1 record and be tied with Houston for the lead. Houston is 5-3-1.

This can be changed Sunday, however, because Houston plays New York at Houston. The Oilers can move out front or New York, which is in a tie for second place with Boston, can remain deadlocked with Boston, but for the lead.

Four of the six teams in the National Hockey League have new captains this season.

Top Teams Fear Upsets As Stumbling Blocks To Bowls

Texas, Alabama, Orange Will Step Cautiously Around Gridirons

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bowl fever, an annual malady that afflicts most of the nation's top college football teams, is on the rampage again this weekend, testing the strong and striking down the weak.

Georgia Tech and Colorado were victims last week, and while they are not dead yet, the weekend schedule is such that it could cause further trouble to them and some of the hopefuls.

Texas, the nation's top-ranked team, second-ranked Alabama and fifth-ranked Minnesota seem to be in the greatest danger, while oncoming Syracuse, ranked 10th, is by no means safe.

The Longhorns, gunning for the host spot New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl, can clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title if they beat Texas Christian.

Alabama, unbeaten in its last 15 games, meets Georgia Tech, which has "revenge" fever, in addition to the bowl malady. The Crimson Tide are casting a fervent eye on the Rose Bowl, while also holding on to the Southeastern Conference's lead with a 5-0 mark. 'Bama, 8-0 over-all, is also being coveted by the Sugar Bowl.

Minnesota, winners of six in a row after an opening game loss, pits its Big Ten lead against seventh-ranked Purdue, also on the move after a shaky start. The Gophers, tied with Ohio State for the conference lead with a 5-0 record, have beaten Michigan, Michigan State and Iowa on successive weeks.

Purdue, 5-2, has beaten Iowa and Michigan State but is saddled with a mile-long injury list. A loss would leave third-ranked Ohio State atop the Big Ten. The Buckeyes play nonconference foe Oregon.

Syracuse, back on the track after a rash of injuries, faces Notre Dame, which shook a three-game losing streak last week.

Fourth-ranked Louisiana State, 7-1 over-all and 4-0 in the SEC, plays Mississippi State. Its bowl plans will be better known if it wins, after kayoing thoughts of the Sugar Bowl earlier this week.

Mississippi (No. 6), set to go to the Cotton Bowl when it receives the invitation, takes on Tennessee, upset-victor over Georgia Tech last week. Michigan State, ranked ninth, meets Northwestern in a Big Ten game that will have no relation to a bowl, while eighth-ranked Colorado still holds the Big Eight lead, and hopes for an Orange Bowl bid, as it faces conference foe Nebraska.

Rutgers, the nation's other major unbeaten at 7-0, plays Colgate.

He lettered in football and basketball at South Side High. Last spring he helped the Ranger track and field team capture the interservice track and field championship on Okinawa by scoring in the hammer throw and shot put.

Barrett will be discharged from the Army in March. The 247-pounder intends to enroll at either the University of Pittsburgh or the University of Indiana, seeking a degree in business administration and the opportunity to participate in intercollegiate athletics.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Barrett of R. D. 1 Hookstown.

Bucks In Home Finale

Oregon Invades Columbus, W. Mich., OU In M-A Tilt

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — All but two of Ohio's colleges close their football campaigns Saturday in a 19-game program which finds 13 Buckeye teams playing out-of-state opponents.

The big ones are third-ranked Ohio State's clash with Oregon in the at-home closer for the Bucks, and Western Michigan's invasion of Ohio University. The latter sends the winner into the first Aviation Bowl game at Dayton Dec. 9, and the Michigan club can grab a tie for the Mid-American Conference with Bowling Green by defeating the Bobcats.

On paper, the 4-4 Webfoots from Oregon wouldn't appear to pose a problem for the 6-0-1 Bucks, but Coach Woody Hayes believes the West Coast club has the fastest backfield he's faced all year.

Minnesota, tied with Ohio State for the Big Ten lead at 5-0, was able to defeat Oregon 14-7—but the Webfoots were minus their big gun, left halfback Mel Renfro.

The game, due to attract 82,000-plus for the 23rd straight time, will mark the last home appearance for 17 Buckeye seniors and assistant coach Ernie Godfrey. The latter has been an Ohio State aide since 1929, and retires in June. He's rated the country's finest place-kicking coach.

In addition to the two eye-catching games, others on Saturday's slate include Oberlin at Wooster, Ohio Wesleyan at Denison, and Akron at Mount Union (N) in the Ohio Conference; Case at Western Reserve in the Presidents' loop, and non-league events Hobart at John Carroll, Wayne State at Wittenberg, Baldwin-Wallace a Kent State, Bowling Green at Southern Illinois, Miami at Cincinnati, Wichita at Dayton, Grove City at Hiram, Marietta at Geneva, Norfolk Navy at Muskingum, Otterbein at Centre, Toledo at Temple, Xavier at Kentucky, and Texas Lutheran at Youngstown (N).

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)— Ken Still, a self-styled "golf bum" and an unknown on the touring professional circuit, went into the second round of the $15,000 Cajun Classic today tied for the lead with Doug Sanders and Dave Marr.

Still, 26, blistered the soggy, 6,534-yard Oakbourne Country Club course with a 4-under-par 33-34—67 Thursday and set the gallery buzzing: "Who's he?"

"I'm just a golf bum but I love it," exclaimed Still, a Tacoma, Wash., product who turned pro at 18 but almost left the game for the rug cleaning business until nine months ago.

"I shot some 64s and 65s on the Tacoma courses and a group of lawyers decided to sponsor me on the tour I'll be honest, I haven't got a dime to my name," chuckled the lanky, blond Still. "But those lawyers gave me the chance to do the thing I want to do most."

The 67 was Still's best score to date on the tour.

Sanders, 28, of Cedartown, Ga., swinger who plays out of Ojai, Calif., finished early with his 33-34 and for a while it appeared his score would stand.

Marr, 27, of Houston, Tex. and Sun City, Ariz., shot a 33-34 in quest of his second tournament victory of the year.

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Nine 3-year-old pacers, with Henry T. Adios the 5-2 choice, match strides tonight in Roosevelt Raceway's $145,377.96 Messenger Stakes—the richest purse ever offered in harness racing.

The division title also will be at stake in the mile test. A victory for Henry T. Adios would all but wrap up the title for the son of Adios, who until his last two starts dominated the 3-year-old racing field after winning the Little Brown Jug in four gruelling heats.

But a defeat for the small speedy colt, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Nicholas Derrico of Pelham Manor, N.Y., would throw the title race wide open. He'll be driven by Stanley Dancer.

The Messenger is the culminating leg of pacing's triple crown. However, there will be no winner of the crown this year. Cold Front edged Henry T. Adios in the Cane at Yonkers Raceway—the first leg of the triple. Cold Front since has been sidelined with injuries.

After winning the jug, second leg of the triple crown with a clocking of 1:58 4-5 in the third heat, Henry T. Adios piled up eight straight victories before bowing to Lang Hanover and then finishing fifth back of Way Wave and Adios Don at Roosevelt.

Lang Hanover, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati; the Castleton Farm's Way Wave, a filly from Lexington, Ky.; and Adios Don, carrying the hopes of Jane and Harold Large of Jericho, N.Y., are all in tonight's field.

Top Teams Fear Upsets As Stumbling Blocks To Bowls

Texas, Alabama, Orange Will Step Cautiously Around Gridirons

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bowl fever, an annual malady that afflicts most of the nation's top college football teams, is on the rampage again this weekend, testing the strong and striking down the weak.

Georgia Tech and Colorado were victims last week, and while they are not dead yet, the weekend schedule is such that it could cause further trouble to them and some of the hopefuls.

Texas, the nation's top-ranked team, second-ranked Alabama and fifth-ranked Minnesota seem to be in the greatest danger, while oncoming Syracuse, ranked 10th, is by no means safe.

The Longhorns, gunning for the host spot New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl, can clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title if they beat Texas Christian.

Alabama, unbeaten in its last 15 games, meets Georgia Tech, which has "revenge" fever, in addition to the bowl malady. The Crimson Tide are casting a fervent eye on the Rose Bowl, while also holding on to the Southeastern Conference's lead with a 5-0 mark. 'Bama, 8-0 over-all, is also being coveted by the Sugar Bowl.

Minnesota, winners of six in a row after an opening game loss, pits its Big Ten lead against seventh-ranked Purdue, also on the move after a shaky start. The Gophers, tied with Ohio State for the conference lead with a 5-0 record, have beaten Michigan, Michigan State and Iowa on successive weeks.

Purdue, 5-2, has beaten Iowa and Michigan State but is saddled with a mile-long injury list. A loss would leave third-ranked Ohio State atop the Big Ten. The Buckeyes play nonconference foe Oregon.

Syracuse, back on the track after a rash of injuries, faces Notre Dame, which shook a three-game losing streak last week.

Fourth-ranked Louisiana State, 7-1 over-all and 4-0 in the SEC, plays Mississippi State. Its bowl plans will be better known if it wins, after kayoing thoughts of the Sugar Bowl earlier this week.

Mississippi (No. 6), set to go to the Cotton Bowl when it receives the invitation, takes on Tennessee, upset-victor over Georgia Tech last week. Michigan State, ranked ninth, meets Northwestern in a Big Ten game that will have no relation to a bowl, while eighth-ranked Colorado still holds the Big Eight lead, and hopes for an Orange Bowl bid, as it faces conference foe Nebraska.

Rutgers, the nation's other major unbeaten at 7-0, plays Colgate.

Bucks In Home Finale

Oregon Invades Columbus, W. Mich., OU In M-A Tilt

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — All but two of Ohio's colleges close their football campaigns Saturday in a 19-game program which finds 13 Buckeye teams playing out-of-state opponents.

The big ones are third-ranked Ohio State's clash with Oregon in the at-home closer for the Bucks, and Western Michigan's invasion of Ohio University. The latter sends the winner into the first Aviation Bowl game at Dayton Dec. 9, and the Michigan club can grab a tie for the Mid-American Conference with Bowling Green by defeating the Bobcats.

On paper, the 4-4 Webfoots from Oregon wouldn't appear to pose a problem for the 6-0-1 Bucks, but Coach Woody Hayes believes the West Coast club has the fastest backfield he's faced all year.

Minnesota, tied with Ohio State for the Big Ten lead at 5-0, was able to defeat Oregon 14-7—but the Webfoots were minus their big gun, left halfback Mel Renfro.

The game, due to attract 82,000-plus for the 23rd straight time, will mark the last home appearance for 17 Buckeye seniors and assistant coach Ernie Godfrey. The latter has been an Ohio State aide since 1929, and retires in June. He's rated the country's finest place-kicking coach.

In addition to the two eye-catching games, others on Saturday's slate include Oberlin at Wooster, Ohio Wesleyan at Denison, and Akron at Mount Union (N) in the Ohio Conference; Case at Western Reserve in the Presidents' loop, and non-league events Hobart at John Carroll, Wayne State at Wittenberg, Baldwin-Wallace a Kent State, Bowling Green at Southern Illinois, Miami at Cincinnati, Wichita at Dayton, Grove City at Hiram, Marietta at Geneva, Norfolk Navy at Muskingum, Otterbein at Centre, Toledo at Temple, Xavier at Kentucky, and Texas Lutheran at Youngstown (N).

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

More Moral Than Comic?

Hal Humphrey

"We thought we were doing a comedy, but after reading the reviews and viewers' mail, it seems we delved deeper than comedy," says Yorkin. One critic referred to the Kaye show as being "comforting." Another pointed to "wistful pathos and a serious, uplifting moral at the core of the comic story.'

If either Yorkin or Lear had been assigned to do a "comforting" show with an "uplifting moral," he would have run for the hills.

ONE OF KAYE'S songs, "I'm an Is," was written to tie in with the general theme of the show, which was pegged loosely on poet Robert Burns' lines reading, "Oh wad some power the giftie gie us, To see oursel's as ithers see us!"

A New York critic termed the song "bogus philosophy," but in Detroit the same song was reviewed as a "sober musical essay on the meaning of life."

A viewer wrote in to protest, "When I want psychology, I'll go to school . . . the show was too icky with message."

"All I know is, my wife and I felt good when it was all over and we talked about it for two days. . . . I don't remember ever doing that before," wrote another viewer.

APPARENTLY, if Yorkin and Lear could persuade Danny Kaye to hit the sawdust trail with them, the trio even might outpull Billy Graham.

However, since neither of them had any intention of writing anything but comedy entertainment (which I thought they brought off quite admirably), they now are in the position of asking themselves, "What happened?"

"Maybe," says writer Lear, "these mental comics like Mort Sahl and Shelley Berman have made audiences feel that comedy must have some meaning. If it isn't evident on the surface, they look for it anyway."

Producer Yorkin leans toward the theory that Kaye himself was in a wistful mood while doing most of the show and that this gave the material — especially the songs — a more meaningful air.

PERSONALLY, I'm afraid of all this postmortem analysis. One of the problems in TV during recent years has been the Madison Ave. philosophy of breaking everything down and matching it up to the market-research and customers' motivation reports.

As a result, all TV series must have certain elements in them to grab all of the audience — a kookie kid with a comb, a nice old grandmotherly type, a young girl, an older girl and a mother who looks young enough to neck —but who would only do so under pressure.

Pop? He still can be a boob, because the market-research boys find that the only thing he buys for himself is a drink, and TV doesn't take liquor sponsors.

Now, if we go into the analysis of the kind of comedy that makes people cry, write to their mothers or run out to buy a Cadillac, we really are going to be sorry.

I SAY, let the comedy writers sit down and write just for laughs. If they have a Red Skelton hit his stooge across the face with a bladder, and one guy laughs because he thinks it's funny and another sobs because he sees it as a Communist plot to beat down the individual, that second guy is not the writers' concern.

Yorkin and Lear are doing a TV special on Feb. 6 with Henry Fonda, Cara Williams and Dick Van Dyke. It's titled "The Family" and is supposed to be a satire on how American families are microscoped by the research boys.

Remember, men, keep it funny, huh?

Bluffton Students To Join Grinnell In Fast For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for 14 students from Grinnell College in Iowa, who have started a planned 72-hour fast for peace, says 14 students from Bluffton (Ohio) College are scheduled to arrive here tonight and may organize a demonstration along similar lines.

About 12 hours after the Grinnell students started their water-only fast at midnight Wednesday, their spokesman, Michael Horwatt, 20, told newsmen: "I'm already starved and we had steak for dinner last night."

To which a fellow Grinnell student, Larry Smucker, 20, of Bluffton, Ohio, replied, "The trick is not to think of, or mention, food."

"Yes," Horwatt responded, "but everyone keeps asking about food and it just brings back old memories."

The students, including four coeds, spent Thursday walking back and forth in front of the White House in the rain. They carried two placards which read: "Iowa Students Fasting for Peace" and "We're Behind Kennedy's Peace Race."

Horwatt said it is hoped the demonstration will arouse collegiate support against any resumption of atmospheric nuclear explosions.

HAL HUMPHREY

More Moral Than Comic?

Hal Humphrey

"We thought we were doing a comedy, but after reading the reviews and viewers' mail, it seems we delved deeper than comedy," says Yorkin. One critic referred to the Kaye show as being "comforting." Another pointed to "wistful pathos and a serious, uplifting moral at the core of the comic story.'

If either Yorkin or Lear had been assigned to do a "comforting" show with an "uplifting moral," he would have run for the hills.

ONE OF KAYE'S songs, "I'm an Is," was written to tie in with the general theme of the show, which was pegged loosely on poet Robert Burns' lines reading, "Oh wad some power the giftie gie us, To see oursel's as ithers see us!"

A New York critic termed the song "bogus philosophy," but in Detroit the same song was reviewed as a "sober musical essay on the meaning of life."

A viewer wrote in to protest, "When I want psychology, I'll go to school . . . the show was too icky with message."

"All I know is, my wife and I felt good when it was all over and we talked about it for two days. . . . I don't remember ever doing that before," wrote another viewer.

APPARENTLY, if Yorkin and Lear could persuade Danny Kaye to hit the sawdust trail with them, the trio even might outpull Billy Graham.

Bluffton Students To Join Grinnell In Fast For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for 14 students from Grinnell College in Iowa, who have started a planned 72-hour fast for peace, says 14 students from Bluffton (Ohio) College are scheduled to arrive here tonight and may organize a demonstration along similar lines.

About 12 hours after the Grinnell students started their water-only fast at midnight Wednesday, their spokesman, Michael Horwatt, 20, told newsmen: "I'm already starved and we had steak for dinner last night."

To which a fellow Grinnell student, Larry Smucker, 20, of Bluffton, Ohio, replied, "The trick is not to think of, or mention, food."

"Yes," Horwatt responded, "but everyone keeps asking about food and it just brings back old memories."

The students, including four coeds, spent Thursday walking back and forth in front of the White House in the rain. They carried two placards which read: "Iowa Students Fasting for Peace" and "We're Behind Kennedy's Peace Race."

Horwatt said it is hoped the demonstration will arouse collegiate support against any resumption of atmospheric nuclear explosions.

You Can Survive Atomic Attack

What The Big City Dweller Can Do

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

Any city could be hit, with an aiming error of perhaps only a few miles in placing a rocket warhead in the heart of a metropolis.

The aiming errors, defense actions such as interceptor missiles and other variables could keep the center of a city from being hit, with a suburb taking the full brunt. This is unpredictable.

Tenth In A Series

With proper defense, most city dwellers and workers could be saved. Our cities are vulnerable right now because shamefully little has been done. City dwellers should be demanding action quickly and taking individual steps to protect themselves.

SOME CITIES have designated public shelters in basements or other areas of large public and office buildings, or factories. But few if any are yet stocked with necessary provisions to sit out the period of intense fallout.

Indeed, surveys to locate the best shelter areas are still being planned, rather than long ago accomplished.

A few firms or companies have taken the initiative and shown what is possible. For example, one company with 3,500 employes has prepared shelters in its buildings and stocked them at a cost of about $3.50 per employe.

At the University of California at Los Angeles in two days we mapped the campus for basement areas capable of accommodating about 25,000 persons, enough room for the students and faculty and personnel.

We estimated we can stock it with all necessary supplies, including a basic powdered multipurpose food which needs only addition of water, for $1 per person.

Many city buildings, factories and apartments have basement areas which could be quickly prepared to care for residents, workers and visitors.

APARTMENT dwellers, on their own or with aid of the landlord, can set up fallout shelters within their buildings.

Subways offer huge shelter areas for many thousands of persons, particularly in New York. Storm drains, and any tunnels, are other possibilities.

Some countries, notably Sweden and Denmark, have been developing efficient fallout and antiblast protection shelters for some time.

In Sweden, H - bomb shelters are required in the center of every city over 50,000 population, according to reports to the House Committee on Government Operations. In Denmark, some underground garages are prepared as shelter areas.

City residents in many blocks could band together to build and supply buried community shelters, such as were described in the previous article.

Would tall buildings and skyscrapers come tumbling down, perhaps trapping people in basement shelters? Yes, under a direct hit, or possibly for some distances beyond.

But reinforced concrete buildings such as these are strong, and many could withstand blast effects.

In Hiroshima a concrete building directly underneath the A-bomb withstood the blast and was essentially intact, while frame buildings were blown down over great distances.

FOR FALLOUT protection alone, tall buildings offer excellent protection in middle floors, and interior areas or corridors. There, the radiation from fallout would be blocked by the concrete structures above and below.

Evacuating a big city is not the answer, unless there was advance warning of a couple of days. Colossal traffic jams otherwise could lead to serious problems or loss of life.

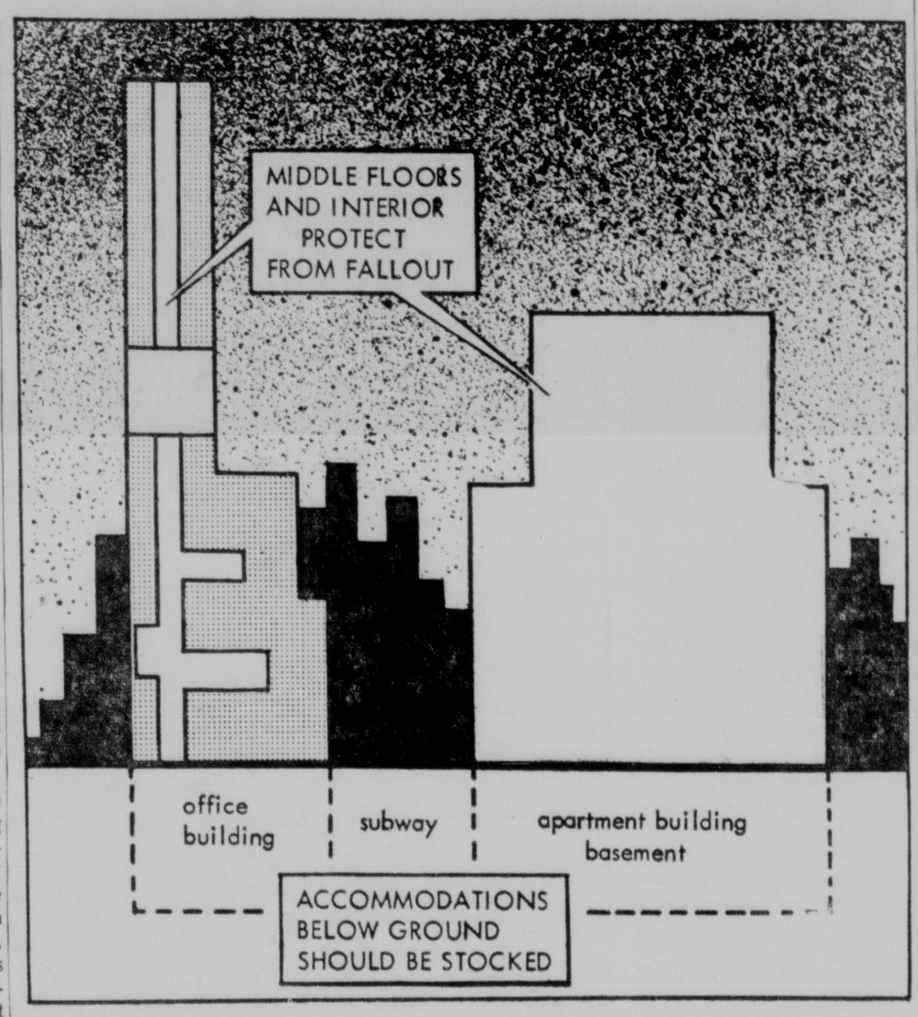

Planning for apartment dwellers has lagged as badly as planning and preparation of shelters in schools.

Tenants could take the lead in insisting on shelther provision, and might even contribute toward community shelters. The costs run about $100 per person with 50 or more people per shelter.

Some apartments have inner corridors or spaces offering some protection due to distance and intervening walls from the exterior walls or roof. Staying there for 48 hours could reduce the exposure somewhat but such shelter is very seldom adequate.

Otherwise there seems little choice for many except closets, or improvised shelters with "walls" of books of any available material. Going to shelters in offices or public buildings might be the wiser course.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, the Fiscal Officer of the City of East Liverpool, herein referred to as the municipality, in the County of Columbiana, Ohio, at his office in the Municipal Hall in the municipality, the address of which is 130 West Sixth Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 4th day of December, 1961, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the municipality in the aggregate amount of $36,700, authorized by ordinance passed October 16, 1961. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Street Improvement Bonds."

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of December, 1961, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, except bond No. 1 which shall be in the denomination of $1,700, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year beginning June 1, 1962, at the rate of 3% per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 6% provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $7,700 on December 1, 1963; $8,000 on December 1, 1964; and $7,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1965 to 1967, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments heretofore levied to pay the property owners' portion ($29,098.85) and the City's portion ($7,601.15) of the cost of improving certain streets and alleys between certain termini by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the City Treasurer, East Liverpool, Ohio, and are supported by limited taxes and special assessments.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the municipality unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes or special assessments for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at eight o'clock p.m. on the 4th day of December, 1961, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder; if outside of the limits of the municipality the bidder shall pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the municipality shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no - litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default or any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

You Can Survive Atomic Attack

What The Big City Dweller Can Do

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

Any city could be hit, with an aiming error of perhaps only a few miles in placing a rocket warhead in the heart of a metropolis.

The aiming errors, defense actions such as interceptor missiles and other variables could keep the center of a city from being hit, with a suburb taking the full brunt. This is unpredictable.

Tenth In A Series

With proper defense, most city dwellers and workers could be saved. Our cities are vulnerable right now because shamefully little has been done. City dwellers should be demanding action quickly and taking individual steps to protect themselves.

SOME CITIES have designated public shelters in basements or other areas of large public and office buildings, or factories. But few if any are yet stocked with necessary provisions to sit out the period of intense fallout.

Indeed, surveys to locate the best shelter areas are still being planned, rather than long ago accomplished.

A few firms or companies have taken the initiative and shown what is possible. For example, one company with 3,500 employes has prepared shelters in its buildings and stocked them at a cost of about $3.50 per employe.

At the University of California at Los Angeles in two days we mapped the campus for basement areas capable of accommodating about 25,000 persons, enough room for the students and faculty and personnel.

We estimated we can stock it with all necessary supplies, including a basic powdered multipurpose food which needs only addition of water, for $1 per person.

Many city buildings, factories and apartments have basement areas which could be quickly prepared to care for residents, workers and visitors.

APARTMENT dwellers, on their own or with aid of the landlord, can set up fallout shelters within their buildings.

Subways offer huge shelter areas for many thousands of persons, particularly in New York. Storm drains, and any tunnels, are other possibilities.

Some countries, notably Sweden and Denmark, have been developing efficient fallout and anti-blast protection shelters for some time.

In Sweden, H - bomb shelters are required in the center of every city over 50,000 population, according to reports to the House Committee on Government Operations. In Denmark, some underground garages are prepared as shelter areas.

City residents in many blocks could band together to build and supply buried community shelters, such as were described in the previous article.

Would tall buildings and skyscrapers come tumbling down, perhaps trapping people in basement shelters? Yes, under a direct hit, or possibly for some distances beyond.

But reinforced concrete buildings such as these are strong, and many could withstand blast effects.

In Hiroshima a concrete building directly underneath the A-bomb withstood the blast and was essentially intact, while frame buildings were blown down over great distances.

FOR FALLOUT protection alone, tall buildings offer excellent protection in middle floors, and interior areas or corridors. There, the radiation from fallout would be blocked by the concrete structures above and below.

Evacuating a big city is not the answer, unless there was advance warning of a couple of days. Colossal traffic jams otherwise could lead to serious problems or loss of life.

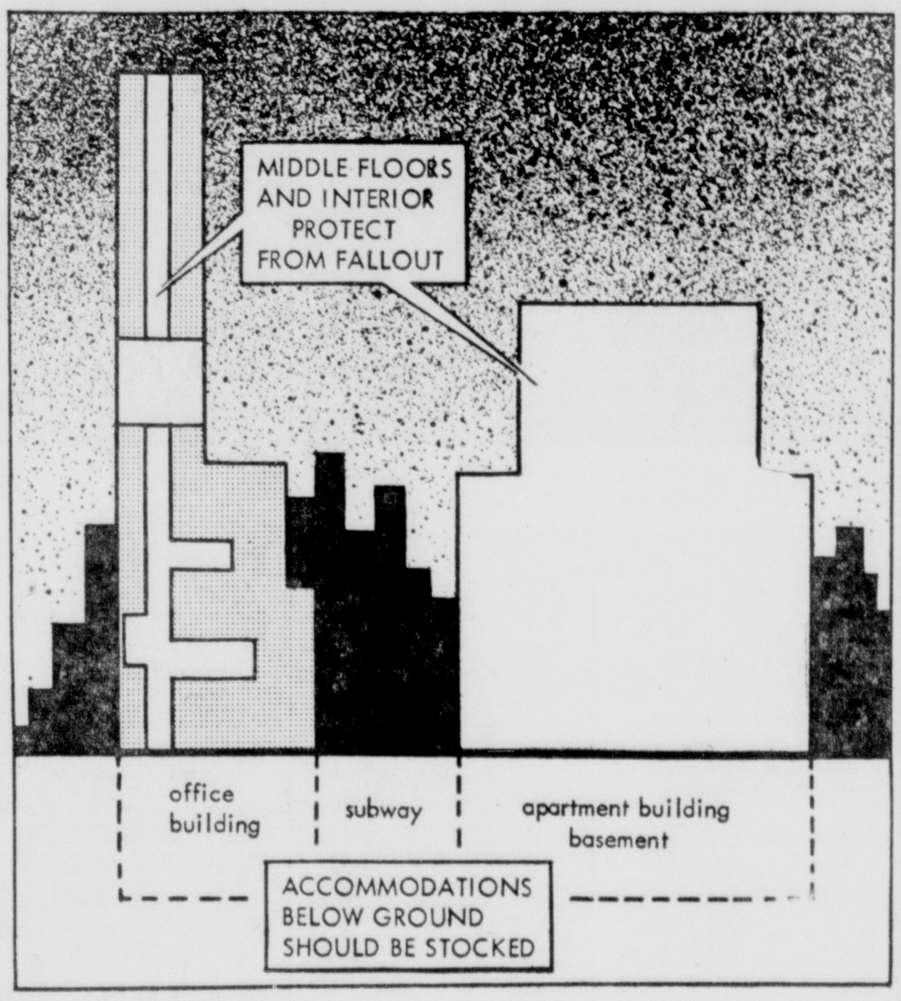

Planning for apartment dwellers has lagged as badly as planning and preparation of shelters in schools.

Tenants could take the lead in insisting on shelther provision, and might even contribute toward community shelters. The costs run about $100 per person with 50 or more people per shelter.

Some apartments have inner corridors or spaces offering some protection due to distance and intervening walls from the exterior walls or roof. Staying there for 48 hours could reduce the exposure somewhat but such shelter is very seldom adequate.

Otherwise there seems little choice for many except closets, or improvised shelters with "walls" of books of any available material. Going to shelters in offices or public buildings might be the wiser course.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, the Fiscal Officer of the City of East Liverpool, herein referred to as the municipality, in the County of Columbiana, Ohio, at his office in the Municipal Hall in the municipality, the address of which is 130 West Sixth Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 4th day of December, 1961, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the municipality in the aggregate amount of $36,700, authorized by ordinance passed October 16, 1961. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Street Improvement Bonds."

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of December, 1961, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, except bond No. 1 which shall be in the denomination of $1,700, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year beginning June 1, 1962, at the rate of 3% per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 6% provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $7,700 on December 1, 1963; $8,000 on December 1, 1964; and $7,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1965 to 1967, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments heretofore levied to pay the property owners' portion ($29,098.85) and the City's portion ($7,601.15) of the cost of improving certain streets and alleys between certain termini by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the City Treasurer, East Liverpool, Ohio, and are supported by limited taxes and special assessments.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the municipality unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes or special assessments for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at eight o'clock p.m. on the 4th day of December, 1961, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder; if outside of the limits of the municipality the bidder shall pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the municipality shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no - litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default or any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entited to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Q. What can I do when the white of egg refuses to beat stiff?

A. Add a teaspoonful of cold water and a pinch of salt. Adding a pinch of baking powder while beating will also help, will make it more fluffy, and will prevent its falling if it must stand for a while after beating.

Q. How can I make some steel and aluminum pans stain-free?

A. Try boiling some water and a piece of aluminum foil in them.

Q. Is there an easy "dry-cleaning" method I can use on my gloves at home?

A. Make a mix of some fuller's earth and powdered alum. Lay your gloves on a table and apply the powder to both sides of them with a brush, then wipe off. Cover the gloves with a dry cereal, such as cornmeal, and brush off.

Q. How can I remove corrosion from inside the ferrule of a fishing rod?

A. One easy way is to wrap a small wad of medium - fine steel wool around a dowel chucked into an electric drill, and then carefully running this into the opening.

Q. How can I make wood screws turn more easily in tight-fitting holes?

A. If the threads of the screws are rubbed with a slightly wet bar of laundry sap, it will make far easier "twisting" on your part.

Q. How can I, when mixing some plaster of Paris, prevent it from hardening too quickly while I am working with it?

A. If you'll use glycerin or vinegar, instead of water, for mixing, your plaster of Paris will usually refrain from hardening for 20 to 30 minutes. Use more or less of the liquid, according to the time required to complete the use of the mixture.

New Imperial Placed On Display

The 1962 Imperial, with new styling and significant engineering improvements, is being displayed at the East Liverpool Central Service Co., 142 W. 7th St.

C. E. Briggs, corporate vice president and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division of the Chrysler Corp., says 1962 changes give emphasis to styling continuity, reliability and passenger comfort.

"The Imperial has retainde its traditional 129-inch long wheelbase so important to full - size luxury and comfort in motoring," Briggs said. "Imperial will remain a prestige automobile, offering luxury and performance without compromise."

Improvements include more passenger room in the front compartment, a new more compact and more rugged automatic transmission, new power brakes, sealed front-end lubrication and a variety of rich and colorful interior fabrics and color schemes.

Imperial's classic free-standing headlamps introduced last year accent the front area of the car. New nacelle-type free-standing tail lights mounted on each rear fender give styling continuity in the tradition of past gunsight-styling Imperial tail lamps.

Newell PTA Told 1970's Jobs 'Unknown As Of Now'

By 1370, some 50 per cent of the occupations will be those unknown of today, Glenn Roberts, community relations director of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., predicted in an address Wednesday night at the meeting of the Newell Jefferson Parent-Teacher Association.

He discussed how much the scope of education has changed in the last 20 years and pointed out it is almost imperative for a person to be better educated than before. Higher education is required for job advantages, Roberts said, discussing the need for skilled engineers, tradesmen and electronics technicians.

Roberts also went into detail about Crucible's scholarship program, explaining that it is based not only on aptitude but also on attitude.

Applicants must be people who can be trained, who have leadership potential, who are active in extracurricular activities and who have motivation so that they will be at the top of the ladder by the time they are 40-45.

Roberts was introduced by George Vukas, president, who also conducted business.

It was reported the State Road Commission has made repairs to Jefferson St. The PTA had complained to the commission about condition of the street.

The membership drive contest, in which a $5 award will be made to the room securing the most members, was discussed.

Ernest John, principal, reported on the grading system.

Mrs. Charles Lawson, in charge of devotions, used Psalms 100. It closed with the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The attendance banner was won by the fourth grade taught by Miss Mary Highfield. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Janet Keller, Mrs. Delmar Jividen and Mrs. Lawson with the theme in keeping with Thanksgiving.
